STORE SANTA CLAUS, 61 YEARS OLD, SUED IN HEART BALM CASE

Mrs. Baird, 50, Wants $50,000 From W. P. Taylor, Alleging Breach of Promise.

MARRIED ANOTHER,
MARCH 29, SHE SAYS

Bought Trousseau, Humiliated, Her Complaint; New Mrs. Taylor Takes Notice.

Wiley P. Taylor, 61 years old, who played the role of Santa Claus in a local department store last Christmas, resembled anything but that merry old gentleman last night. Taylor was troubled. Seated in his apartment at 1320 Twenty-first street northwest, he pondered over a suit that had been filed against him earlier in the day—a suit demanding $50,000 for alleged breach of promise.

Mrs. Helen L. Baird, 50 years old, a ladies' costume designer, living at 31 Carroll avenue, Takoma Park, Md., was the plaintiff. In the suit she filed in the District Supreme Court she charged that Taylor had seduced her and then married her early in June. They became engaged, she said, March 15 last.

Six days before that, in Upper Marlboro, Md., Taylor married his present wife. It was his third venture, his first two wives having died.

Never Proposed, He Says. "I will put up my right hand and swear that I never proposed to any Mrs. Baird," said Taylor last night. Mrs. Taylor, who, like Mrs. Baird, was a widow, demanded her spouse with an enigmatic expression on her face. "This may be all a mistake," she said, "but if it isn't—well, there is going to be trouble for somebody. I am going out to see this Mrs. Baird, and you (pointing to her husband) are coming with me."

"Fifty thousand dollars, eh," murmured Taylor. "Well, she couldn't get 50 cents out of me." To this Mrs. Taylor agreed, and she mentioned the fact that she had been working to help support the household.

Mrs. Taylor Shows Anger. A reporter told Mr. and Mrs. Taylor that Mrs. Baird had said that Taylor used to call on her every afternoon with the exception of Sunday.

"So that's where you went when you said you were going to the Soldiers Home," said Mrs. Taylor angrily. Mrs. Baird said she met Taylor early in the year and that after a whirlwind courtship became engaged to marry him about March 15. The ceremony was to take place, she said, early in June. Meantime, she said, she told at least 200 friends that she was going to be married, and she began to turn away trade and abandon her business. She said she also bought a trousseau for several hundred dollars.

Never an Engagement Ring.

"So you can imagine how humiliated I was when he broke his promise," she said. "I suppose I began to get suspicious about the end of June. He hadn't given me an engagement ring, and people began to wonder why. I asked him about it, he told me to wait and everything would be all right. The last time I saw him was June 21. He told me that he was going to Kentucky to sell some coal lands worth $800,000 so that we could have plenty of money and wouldn't have to worry. The next day he received a wonderful letter from him, saying he never wanted to be separated from me again. He turned that letter over to my attorney, Blum Libby, and it will make good evidence."

Recently a friend of Mrs. Baird told her that she had seen Taylor on the street. From the Pension Office—Taylor is a Spanish-American War veteran—she found that Taylor was living in the Western Hotel, Apartment 10, at 2020 First street. Then, at the suggestion of friends, she had Attorney Libby enter suit for $50,000.

"I have never been so humiliated," said Mrs. Baird last night.

Mrs. Taylor said the very same thing.

Richmond Musicians Abandon Strike Plan

Richmond, Va., Sept. 2 (A.P.).—Musicians in Richmond theaters have announced that they will renew contracts with theaters for another year on promise of "a substantial increase in salary" for the seven musicians forming the only orchestra in the local motion picture houses. It was announced here today. There will be no strike Monday and theater patrons may have music with their pictures.

A strike was threatened yesterday when the local musicians announced they would not renew contracts after the theaters had refused to place orchestras of four men each in the theaters to replace pipe organs.

Fear for 3 on Way To the Lipton Races

Biloxi, Miss., Sept. 2 (A.P.).—Anxiety was felt here tonight for the safety of F. G. Collins, Eddie Moore and Robert Pringle, who left here August 24 in a 17-foot cabin yawl, the Corsair, for St. Petersburg, Fla., to attend the Lipton Cup races, which begin tomorrow. The last word from the three men came Wednesday night, according to advice from Pensacola, where Albert E. Bessey, an entrant in the races from Biloxi, reported having talked to them. Relatives received a telegram from the men August 27, saying that it was probable strong head winds off Pensacola would force them to abandon the trip, and that they would return home in a few days. Bessey said they told him they were going to fish for a day or so instead of continuing to St. Petersburg.

MINNEAPOLIS 'NOT HOME' TO MAYOR OF CHICAGO

State Fair Does Not Want His Talk on River Flood Control.

THOMPSON TELLS VIEWS

Special to The Washington Post.

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 2.—Mayor Thompson's tour of the Middle West as a booster for flood control will not include Minneapolis. Dispatches from that city stated today that the Minnesota State Fair Association did not want the mayor or his views.

The mayor has issued a brochure of his ideas which he proposes to expound on the trip through eight States. These are:

"America first."

"Retaining independence of work, thought and deed."

"Government to be administered at Washington, not on the shores of Lake Geneva."

"To be our own body police, not a part of the League of Nations."

"To have the right to put our own house in order before sending good American dollars to rehabilitate foreign countries."

"To recall any American Ambassador, Minister or Consul, who by word or deed criticizes his country or her intentions."

"To put only 'Americans on guard,' as George Washington admonished."

"To send to Congress red-blooded Americans who regard 'public office as a public trust.'"

"To develop our inland water ways, so that river traffic will insure cheaper freight rates, reduce the cost of living and give the farmer and manufacturer better markets."

"Against repudiation of foreign debts. 'Keep the gates closed to undesirable immigration.'"

"He declared that he is a candidate for President."

GIRL TOLD OF KILLING
MAN, SAYS EVANGELIST

Causes North Carolina Police to Investigate Disappearance of R. S. Petty.

Reidsville, N. C., Sept. 2 (A.P.).—This city was rocked today when news was broadcast that a thorough investigation is being made here into the possible murder of R. Smith Petty, former well-known resident of this city, who disappeared about a year ago. Allen Gwyn, solicitor of the Rockingham County Court, is making the investigation with the assistance of officers paid to have been sent here by Gov. A. W. McLean. The inquiry is reported to have started when the Rev. Thomas F. Parnell, an evangelist, is alleged to have given out the information that a young woman, converted in a recent revival meeting here, had confessed to him that she had strangled Petty over the head with an ax during an argument, hid his body in a closet for a few days and then, with assistance, disposed of it. The young woman is said to have bitterly denied making any such statement.

Petty, until four years ago, was an overseer in the East Cotton Mills in this city, but lost his job. About a year ago he was seen for the last time. The story told here is that he was accused of the murder of a woman, a section of the city and given a severe beating. Petty did not have the man arrested, but police took him in custody and just before reaching the city jail he made his escape. Neither the stranger nor Petty has since been seen here. Mrs. Petty died several months ago.

The young woman to whom the evangelist attributed the confession of the killing, is a relative of the missing man. No arrests have been made and no warrants have been issued.

MARYLAND MAN HELD FOR ASSAULT INQUIRY

Bladensburg Storekeeper, Ax Victim, Reported in Serious Condition.

Arrested in connection with the attack upon Wallace C. Raybold, 70-year-old storekeeper, who was beaten over the head with an ax while sleeping in his store at Bladensburg, Md., Thursday morning, Ollie Commodore, 25 years old, of Bladensburg, Md., was being held in the Bladensburg Jail on a charge of investigation.

Raybold is in Casualty Hospital in a serious condition suffering from concussion of the brain and severe lacerations on the head and hands. He has been unable to give a coherent story of the attack to investigators.

Commodore was arrested following an investigation by Private Detective Thomas Garrison, of Hyattsville. He denies that he had any connection with the attack on Raybold, Garrison said. A blood-stained shirt was found under Commodore's outer clothing at the jail last night. Garrison declared Commodore will probably be given a preliminary hearing Monday.

Virginia "Gas" Prices

Richmond, Va., Sept. 2 (A.P.).—Returning to Richmond after a tour of southwest Virginia institutions, Gov. Harry F. Byrd today revealed that he had been conducting another campaign for lower gasoline prices in Virginia. He said he believed it his duty to take steps to see that Virginia consumers buy gasoline at as low a price as consumers in other States similarly situated pay.

BORAH SAYS FARM RELIEF IS URGENT QUESTION IN WEST

Unless Congress Settles Problem, Declares Issue Will Rule 1928 Campaign.

MAN WITH SOLUTION WILL BE PRESIDENT

Senator, Returning to Capital, Outlines His Own Program in Coming Session.

Farm relief sentiment west of the Mississippi is stronger than ever, despite good crops and fairly good prices, and it promises to be the dominating issue in the coming presidential campaign, according to Senator Borah, of Idaho.

Senator Borah, who has returned to Washington from his State, declares that unless the farm relief issue is met in Congress this session, the issue will be foremost in 1928 and that the man, regardless of party, who brings forth and supports a practical proposition will be elected President.

The Idaho senator spoke partly with reference to conditions in his own State and partly in reference to general conditions west of the Mississippi. What he said on farm relief attracted the more notice here because he did not support the McNary-Haugen bill in the last Congress.

Believes Coolidge Sincere.

Senator Borah, who is looked on himself as a presidential factor, said the West looked on President Coolidge's announcement that he did not choose to run in 1928 as sincere. He indicated the West would take the President at his word, but he would not venture a prediction as to who would be the nominee of the Republican party.

Although Senator Borah has not said so, he is looked on here as being in about the same frame of mind as Senator Watson, of Indiana; that is, willing to be the nominee. It is not expected here, however, that he will make an organized campaign for the nomination.

"The situation in the West is that despite unusually good crops and fairly good prices, the farm relief issue is more acute than ever," said Senator Borah. "If there is not something done about this, it will be the dominant issue of the campaign and anyone, regardless of party, who presents a practical proposition, will carry the country. There is by no means universal support of the McNary-Haugen bill among the farmers, though it is generally regarded as quite generally for the good. There is a general demand for some kind of relief, whether it be the McNary-Haugen bill or something else."

What Ails the Farmer.

Senator Borah declared that in his judgment the relief is largely a question of reducing the cost of getting the farm products to market. He pointed out that the farmer gets but a cents out of every dollar paid by consumers for agricultural products.

The Idaho senator has no bill which he is prepared to offer, but he is seriously considering the feasibility of legislation which will impose a Federal license on dealers in farm products and encourage farmers to market their goods at the point of shipment instead of in a remote and uncertain market.

Senator Borah declined to discuss the publication of the reason for his announcement. However, the senator did make it plain that he was surprised at the extent of the opposition to the term sentiment he found when he went to Idaho.

To Press Alien Property Bill.

The alien property bill will be pressed again this session, Senator Borah said. He will not press for an investigation, if it appears that the bill will pass. He is not averse to the finance committee bill as revised but thinks it should be broadened to restore all alien property.

The Lausanne treaty with Turkey will again be taken up, Senator Borah indicated.

The subject on which the senator was most keenly interested was a fine new three-year-old thoroughbred from Virginia which he has just bought to ride. He still keeps his old horse, Jester, which he rides daily in Rock Creek Park, but plans to use the 3-year-old as a home for his racing where he will be well treated in his old age.

MRS. ARMOUR WILLS
FORTUNE TO WOMEN

Granddaughter Is Left Bulk of Estate Estimated at $800,000.

Chicago, Sept. 2 (A.P.).—Lollita Armour Mitchell, wife of John J. Mitchell, Jr., of Chicago, who died the principal beneficiary in the $800,000 estate of Mrs. Philip D. Armour, widow of the founder of Armour & Co., meat packer, died here today. Mrs. Mitchell is a granddaughter of Mrs. Armour and the daughter of J. Ogden Armour, who died in London last August 16.

The will provides that her two grandsons, Lester and Philip Armour, first be paid the balance of the estate of $2,000,000 left them by her husband. This amount is understood to be small. Following $10,000 paid to Mrs. Ogden Armour and $130,000 in specific bequests to relatives, friends and employees, the balance of the estate is to be placed in a trust fund for Mrs. Mitchell.

Requests to relatives, friends and employees included: Mrs. Patrick A. Valenine, Southampton, Long Island, N. Y., $10,000; Mrs. Arthur Hill, Larchmont, N. Y., $10,000; and Mrs. Robert Denby, Bronxville, N. Y.; Mrs. Frederick C. Robinson, Fordham, Kent, England; Mrs. Charles W. Comes, Kennebunkport, Me.; and Joseph Daniels, Benton Harbor, Mich., each $5,000.

Leaving the workbench in his father's shop and discarding his cobble's apron, Maximilian Kurtz, 47 years old, who once made shoes for President McKinley, late yesterday shot himself to death with a pistol in a bedroom at the Hotel McKinley, New York City.

The elder Kurtz said his son was subject to attacks of mental depression and believes he committed the act while suffering from despondency. The weapon was found clamped in the dead man's hand. Four shells were exploded, while two unexploded cartridges remained. The body was on the floor near a bed.

Police Officer F. A. Carr, of the First Precinct, who was directing traffic at Fourth street and New York City, heard the shots and rushed to the living quarters above the store, where he found Kurtz, still alive. He called the ambulance.

The elder Kurtz has been in business here more than 47 years. He has made shoes for many Presidents and distinguished men, including President Grant and Gen. Sherman.

Mrs. MacLoon charged her husband, since the day of their marriage in New York, April 17, 1923, had nagged, scolded and found fault with her, belittling her efforts both as a housewife and as a producer of theatrical plays. She asked a division of the community property.

They were hauled out of a hiding place behind piles of baggage in the ferry house at Forty-second street and the North River and turned over to the Children's Society.

MISS ALICE BIGGS DIES; FATHER FOUNDED BANK

Was in Eighty-seventh Year and Long Active in Charities; Sister Survives.

MISS ALICE LAWSON BIGGS, one of the most prominent of the Riggs family so prominent in early history of Washington, died yesterday at her home, 1617 I street northwest.

Miss Riggs was 87 years old. For years she has been identified with charity work in the city. Three years ago she was taken ill, and her health since that time has been failing.

Her father was George Washington Riggs, who, in 1854, founded Riggs & Co., later to become the Riggs National Bank. His banking activities began in 1840, as head of the firm of Corcoran & Riggs, of this city. He was the son of Eliza Riggs, a merchant, of Georgetown.

The late E. Francis Riggs, a brother of Miss Riggs, succeeded his father as president of the Riggs National Bank. He was married to the late Mrs. Henry Howard. The family now has no connection with the Riggs in the city.

Miss Riggs is survived by but one sister, Miss Jane Riggs, of this city. Funeral services will be held at St. Michael's Church Monday afternoon at 10 o'clock. Services will be conducted by a nephew, the Rev. T. Lawrence Riggs, of New Haven, assisted by the Rev. John Callaghan. Burial will be in Rock Creek Cemetery.

THE FRIENDLY VETERANS' FIREMEN'S Association will also have in the parade the old Friendship engine, a replica of the one presented to the company by George Washington Riggs.

The last of the series of summer union services which have been conducted in the Protestant churches of the city will be held at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening in the Second Presbyterian Church by the Rev. Foster Hall, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church. His subject will be "Church Unity a Necessity."

The State corporation commission has granted a charter to the Albert Garage, Inc., with a capital stock of from $1,000 to $25,000. The officers and incorporators are Charles Renshaw, president; Nelson T. Snyder, Jr., secretary, and Clyde B. Lanham, the two last named of Alexandria.

Deeds of conveyance have just been recorded with the clerk of the courts covering the following property transfers: B. B. Ezrine Construction Co. to Charles B. Ezrine, house and lot 15, block 1, Mount Vernon Park; Raymond Ernest Middleton and wife to Charles D. Moody, house and lot 5, block 24, section 4, Rosemont; Carl Budweisky, trustee, and others to the Snyder-Kane-Booth Corporation to Robert W. Powell, house and lots 16 and 17, block 6, Rosemont.

While Tony Vaccari, 45 years old, was being held in the police station for investigation by Police Officer Wesley Snoots, he made the mistake of threatening the officer with a razor. He was taken to the police station and later appeared in Police Court with his head swathed in bandages. Charged with carrying concealed weapons, his case was continued for another day.

The Free Methodist Church has elected the following officers for the ensuing year: Calvin Butts, delegate to annual conference, and William S. The Alexandria municipal swimming pools, which have been closed on account of the cool weather, will be reopened this afternoon, and will continue open from 2 until 6 o'clock each evening until cool weather. The force in charge of the pools, however, will be greatly reduced, according to City Manager Morton, since it is not believed the attendance will justify retaining all those formerly employed.

A determined effort to collect delinquent city licenses, particularly those of business and professional men, is now being made by the city manager's office, a list of the delinquents having been made, and they are now being notified to pay the fee or answer in police court for their delinquency. A large number of lawyers and physicians, according to the city manager, have failed to take out the new license, which was due June 1, as well as many business men. It is also estimated that 200 owners of automobiles have failed to procure their city licenses.

The Alexandria fire department will have approximately 100 members in the firemen's parade in Washington Monday, preceding the annual baseball game between the teams of the city and the Washington Nationals. The local men will take with them a handsomely decorated team, and will be headed by Fire Chief James M. Duncan.

2 WOMEN ACCUSED IN PRISONERS' DASH; GUARD IS SHOT DEAD

Two Men Taken to Dentist's
Office for Treatment, in Desperate Break.

THIRD CONVICT HELPS TO BLOCK THE ESCAPE

Five Outsiders Are Arrested on Charge of Smuggling Arms Into Prison.

New Lexington, Ohio, Sept. 2 (A.P.)—Arrest tonight of two women and three men alleged to have smuggled in the guns and confession of the shooting by Patrick Riley, 30, Ohio penitentiary convict, followed upon the slaying today of Grant Weakley, prison guard, victim of a sensational break for liberty by two prisoners.

Riley, back at Ohio penitentiary at Columbus tonight, signed a confession before Warden Thomas admitting the shooting and implicating Fred Kellogg, his companion in the unsuccessful dash that was terminated when a third convict, Irvin Ewald, seized a gun from the dead guard and aided in stopping them with a hail of bullets.

The five persons arrested were declared by authorities to have planted the guns used by Kellogg and Riley. They were Mrs. Kellogg and Mr. and Mrs. James Waters, all of Newark; Beaumont Bowers, 32, Cincinnati; and George Vennet, 32, Detroit. They were taken into custody at Newark.

Took 4 Prisoners for Treatment.

Guard Weakley was killed in the dentist's office of Dr. A. M. Kishner to which he had brought four prisoners from the prison brick plant at Junction City for treatment. Riley is serving from three to five years for pocket-picking and Kellogg was sentenced to three years for carrying concealed weapons. Sheriff Carl Foulk, Licking County, charged that the five persons arrested at Newark had gone to New Lexington Thursday, that Sowers and Vennet went to the dentist's office on a pretext of seeking dental treatment and while there hid weapons in the lavatory. The others, the sheriff said, went to the brick plant and told the officers where the weapons were hidden. Riley is charged with the slaying. Kellogg is held as an accomplice and charged with conspiracy to be filed against the five others, officials said. Mrs. Kellogg, according to Licking County authorities, was searched for in Michigan two years ago for alleged shielding of two men sought on charges of kidnapping. She and the others arrested denied any connection with the affair.

Auto Bandits Get $15,000 Payroll

Erie, Pa., Sept. 2 (A.P.)—A $15,000 payroll was stolen today by three automobile bandits who held up Ouss Driggs, paymaster for the Erie County Electric Co.

Leaping from their automobile, the robbers, masked and armed, accosted Driggs at the entrance to the company offices. After snatching a bag containing the money, the men fled in the car.

Later in the day detectives raided a dwelling and arrested one man as a suspect. His name was withheld, but it was known he was from Buffalo. Another man in the house at the time escaped.

Samaritan to Aged Is a Bonn Graduate

New York, Sept. 2 (A.P.)—The moving spirit in the recently organized Co-operative Action Association, Inc., a membership group designed to help procure work for the indigent and jobless middle-aged, revealed himself today. He is Clement Schwinges, of Brooklyn, a graduate of the University of Bonn, in Germany, a retired manufacturer, and a student of international economics. For the past two weeks he has been known only as "Mr. Action."

Slightly-built, imperious man, with white hair, by his own efforts he had succeeded in gathering together about 300 jobless middle-aged persons.

FINDS MAN SURPASSED PHYSICALLY BY GORILLA

Ape's Evolution Farther From Common Ancestor Says
Hopkins Savants.

INDORSES KEITH'S THEORY

Special to The Washington Post.
Baltimore, Md., Sept. 2.—The gorilla of today in many respects has evolved farther from our common ancestor than man himself, Dr. Adolph M. Schultz, associate professor of physical anthropology at Johns Hopkins University, declared today, discussing his agreement with Sir Arthur Keith, who, in an address before the British Association for the Advancement of Science, asserted that "Darwin was right."

"It is only through the development of the brain and his upright posture that man has not changed as much since the Pliocene period as has the gorilla," Dr. Schultz asserted. In many other respects man has not changed as much since the Pliocene period as has the gorilla.

In physical qualities, according to Dr. Schultz, the formation and functioning of many of his organs in agility and ability to handle himself the gorilla is far more advanced than man's. "Man is a brain specialist and suffers many ills that better physically developed creatures know nothing of," he said.

Dr. Schultz feels that the tendency to extend the period of man's existence, now estimated by Sir Arthur at 1,000,000 years, and the conclusion that man appears more probable as a hypothesis than ever before.

GIGANTIC WHEAT WHEAT POOL BACKED BY ADMINISTRATION

All Grain-Growing States to Be Brought Into Alliance
to Help Crops.

MOVEMENT HAS FULL APPROVAL OF JARDINE

Former Gov. McKelvie Takes Leadership After Conferences With Coolidge.

Administration approval has been given to the projected formation of a gigantic wheat pool covering practically all the wheat growing States, in which former Gov. McKelvie of Nebraska is taking active leadership, following conferences with President Coolidge at Rapid City, it was learned from the Department of Agriculture yesterday.

The department declared that while the project is not entirely new, it is now being actively pushed for the first time, and has received full approval of Secretary Jardine.

A. W. Brinton, of Hastings, Neb., general manager of the Nebraska wheat pool, is taking an active interest in the project, and has been working for some time to bring the grain-growing States into the alliance, it was stated.

NEBRASKA TAKES LEAD

The Nebraska wheat pool is taking the lead in bringing the States of Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska, North Dakota, South Dakota and Minnesota into the organization, the department is advised.

Secretary Jardine, it was asserted, fully realizes that the wheat situation in the United States is not on a par with that in Canada, and the pool seeks to improve the general condition as well as centralize marketing facilities for both domestic and foreign markets.

Those familiar with the pool are inclined to discount reports that financiers are backing the project, as it is stated, to have farmers in the wheat pool. The project is a five-year contract to deliver their wheat to the pool.

The membership will be limited to men who are willing to be open to the possibility of a wheat pool, and to men who are willing to be open to the possibility of a wheat pool, and to men who are willing to be open to the possibility of a wheat pool.

The purpose of the league, said R. R. Richards, of Detroit, founder and president of the league, is to bring together men who are willing to be open to the possibility of a wheat pool, and to men who are willing to be open to the possibility of a wheat pool.

Will Rogers Thinks Dempsey Will Send Flynn in to Fight

Special to The Washington Post.

Chicago, Sept. 2.—Just spent the day at Dempsey's camp, watched him train.

He is in great shape. He went out in 55 and came in in 60. Leo Flynn, his sparring partner, went out in 41 and came in in 42.

It looks like from what I saw they will send in Flynn against Tunney instead of Dempsey.

Yours, WILL ROGERS.

One thousand nationally known bridge players will be invited to enter the play.

GERMAN ARTISTS TURNING TO MODERNISTS' SCHOOL

Special to The Washington Post.

New York, Sept. 2 (A.P.)—Homer Saint Gaudens, director of the fine arts at Carnegie Institute, Pittsburgh, returned from Europe on the Mauretania today after a four-month search for paintings to be exhibited at the Carnegie Institute International exhibition of paintings which opens in Pittsburgh October 13.

Germany, he said, presents the most important development that has taken place in the art world of any country recently.

"In Germany art has become completely modernized," he said. "As a matter of fact, advanced art is the only art that the German government and leaders in German art circles acknowledge. They have made it quite clear that if they are not represented by the pictures which they gave up for the international, they would prefer not to be represented at all."

On the other hand, he added, Italy's artists are not achieving very great success in the modernist manner with the exception of a few young men.

Youth will be recognized in this year's exhibition as never before, Saint Gaudens asserted. For nearly half of the exhibitors have not yet turned forty.

"There are about fourteen countries represented," he said. "On the assumption that each land splits itself into five cliques, there are probably about seventy artists who have been shown by three hundred paintings or four or five paintings to an aspect."

AVIATION TRAGEDIES.

Following the achievement of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh many predictions were made that the day of commercial transoceanic flying was at hand. Then came the flight of Chamberlin, followed by Byrd's accomplishment in the face of extraordinary obstacles. Every indication pointed to the fact that long distance flying was becoming safe and practical. Three American planes had crossed the Atlantic. De Pinedo had completed a flight linking together four continents. Hawaii and California had been linked by air. Why hesitate further over adopting the airplane in everyday life?

Due partially, at least, to the influence of these accomplishments other aviators and raw amateurs sometimes refusing to take the time and care to equip themselves properly, set out on other dangerous adventures. They have written a tragic chapter in the history of aviation. Prior to the successful transatlantic flights four aviators were lost on similar ventures. On May 5, Capt. Saint-Roman and Commander Mounes, bound from France to Buenos Aires, and again on May 8, Capt. Coll and Nungesser, bound from Paris to New York, disappeared into the mists that hover over the oceans, never to be seen again. On August 16, five individuals bound from California to Hawaii, one a woman, were lost in the vast Pacific, and two days later two other aviators started out to search for the five, also to disappear. On August 25, Paul Raderford took off unaccompanied on a flight between Georgia and Brazil. He has not been heard of since, and it is believed that he, too, is lost. Four days ago three more adventurers, including the Princess Lowenstein-Wertheim, started from England to fly to Canada, and they, too, have vanished.

Other aviators are poised ready for flight, awaiting only favorable winds and weather. A few have attempted to start, only to disappoint their backers by not being able to negotiate the take-off or being forced to return before the flight was fairly under way. Death and disappointment have dogged the progress of aviation.

The American people have lost much of their new-found confidence in the plane as a means of long distance transport. It could not be otherwise in view of what the summer has held. Yet the plane is all right, and tragedy has come of the fact that aviation today stands at the crossroad—no longer an experimental toy, not yet a tried and proved agency. From the gloom that today enshrouds the situation will be born the vast international aerial transport system of tomorrow.

BASEBALL CROWDS.

John Heydler, president of the National Baseball League, has issued a new memorandum to his umpires regarding the home-run rule. Among other items is the following: When it becomes necessary to stretch ropes on the field to keep the crowd out of the playing field, the fielder can not jump over or go under the rope to make a catch.

Last winter, following the well-remembered baseball scandal, the prediction was freely made that baseball would not prove the drawing card this summer that it had been in the past. Let the president of one of the major leagues feel called upon to clarify a rule called into play only in the event of extraordinary crowds. This is what has happened to baseball. Despite everything, the crowds are ever increasing, and the public taste for home-run swats has become a passion.

BACKWARD EUROPE.

Philip H. Gadsden, president of the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce, has recently returned from Europe, where he made a study of the service rendered by public utilities on the continent and in England. In all cases, he says, the contrast between the rates and services of government-owned utilities abroad with the rates and services rendered by privately-owned and operated companies in America was strikingly in favor of the United States.

A recent report of the International Chamber of Commerce shows that of the nineteen principal cities of Europe, London has telephonic connection with but five, Paris with nine, and Berlin with thirteen. The average delays during the busy hours on long distance lines between Berlin and Paris is 68 minutes, between London and Amsterdam 34 minutes, and between Paris and Brussels 180 minutes. The time by rail between Paris and Brussels is 217 minutes. A messenger may be dispatched between the two cities in almost the same time that it takes to complete a telephone call.

Turning to the electric light and power field, Mr. Gadsden finds that in London, for instance, practically every political subdivision has its own independent electric system. The various systems are not standardized, but differ from each other in voltage and other characteristics, the result being that if a householder moves from one political subdivision to another, his electrical appliances, such as vacuum cleaners, toasters, electric irons and the like could not be used in the new home.

From his observations Mr. Gadsden concludes that the citizens of the United States should be grateful to the founders of the republic that they set up a government designed to encourage individual initiative and private enterprise, and urges that they be vigilant in resisting any and all efforts to extend the operations of government, whether Federal or State, into the field of business.

Still more may be said. If Europe is not sufficiently alert to use American inventions effectively, if it is not able to make the telephone do quicker service than railroad trains, what reason is there to suppose that the political, economic or social ideas that it continually attempts to inflict upon the United States would work better than its antiquated theories of public utility management?

THE COLORADO RIVER PROBLEM.

The governors of the seven States that are interested in the control and utilization of the Colorado River are having as great difficulty in reaching an agreement as the naval negotiators who met at Geneva. At the recent conference in Denver the governors failed to agree, and rumor has it that the Governor of California addressed an urgent invitation to the Governor of Arizona to "come outside and take something." Whether this cryptic remark was in the Carolinian vein, reminiscent of the dear dead days beyond recall, or whether it was a challenge to single combat, is not revealed. But the conference of governors adjourned until September 19, and in the meantime the Colorado rolls unharnessed to the sea, and Boulder Dam, like disarmament, is a blueprint still.

Some of the governors whose States form the drainage basin of the Colorado are extremely anxious to formulate a plan that can be submitted at the forthcoming session of Congress, when sentiment in behalf of "flood relief" will be at its crest. They believe in floating on the flood. They insist that the States concerned should not stress the advantages of water power, irrigation, and domestic supply that would follow a Federal appropriation, but should emphasize the danger of a flood on the lower Colorado. If the Nation is bound to control the Mississippi, is it not bound to control the Colorado? This question, they hold, contains the strongest argument in favor of "letting Uncle Sam do it." Therefore they urge their colleagues of California and Arizona to bury the hatchet, not in each other's skulls, but in the unfathomable silt of the Colorado.

"One for all and all for the appropriation," is their slogan. Eastern members of Congress are singularly dull in their attempts to understand the Colorado River problem. They ask such silly questions as this: "If you fellows want to build a dam to utilize the power and water supply of the Colorado, why don't you go ahead and do it, without asking Uncle Sam to pay for it?" It is because of this dense ignorance on the part of Eastern legislators that some of the Western governors are trying to show that flood control is the main question, and that other advantages sought by them at Federal expense are merely incidental. But the Governors of California and Arizona somehow fail to see alike, and so an enterprise of great pitch and moment may have its current turned away, like an angry flood whose waters, if pent up by the Treasury, would irrigate local interests to splendid advantage.

CANADA'S UNKIND CUT.

The Canadian railway commission has apparently put a crimp into the transportation interests of the Great Lakes and the American railroads that join the lakes to the seaboard. Incidentally it would appear that the order fixing freight rates from the great grain fields of the Canadian Northwest to Montreal is likely to result in diverting 25,000,000 bushels of export grain from American seaports to the ships that make Montreal, instead of New York, Boston and Baltimore, their western termini.

Last Wednesday the Canadian commission ordered a reduction of the rate on grain from 34.5 cents per hundred pounds to 18.5 cents from the head of the lakes to Montreal and the Canadian seaboard. This reduction in the established rates of nearly 50 per cent naturally caused consternation in American shipping circles and some means of retaliating is being sought.

Not only will this reduction materially affect the earnings of the ships and railroads so largely interested in the commerce of the whole lake region, but it may have a decided effect upon the milling interests of Minnesota. It has been the custom for many years for the people of Manitoba to ship their hard wheat to Minneapolis and Duluth to be ground into flour for export. This grain is admitted free of duty, under bond, and the flour has been transported over the railroads, or by water through Buffalo, to Atlantic ports for export.

Should the order of the Canadian commission result in diverting Canadian wheat and other grains through the elevators at Montreal instead of Buffalo, the effect on the earnings of the transportation lines on this side of the border will be very damaging. The grain interests will endeavor to induce American railroads to appeal to the Interstate Commerce Commission for permission to meet the Canadian cut.

LAUGHTER A SAFETY VALVE.

Prof. F. Aveling, University of London psychologist, recently characterized laughter as being of itself ugly, and the habit only of the discontented. The really happy, he said, never laugh, although they may at times smile. Laughter, made up of grimaces and contortions, the mask of a hard or selfish mind, is an idiosyncrasy of human kind alone. No other animal, except perhaps the hyena, laughs.

Some one, of course, was sure to take the opposite side of such an indictment, and Dr. Thaddeus L. Bolton, head of the department of psychology at Temple University, puts himself forth as the champion of those who laugh. Laughter, he says, is the form of expression denoting the culmination of some conquest or struggle. In other words, it is a phenomenon of triumph found among animals as well as human beings.

Certainly animals, human and dumb alike, laugh when they are acutely pleased. What man at some time in his career has not watched with outraged dignity the antics of a puppy standing guard over the remains of a slipper, laughing that he has evaded capture and punishment? What horseman, violently unseated, has not raged in his heart at the silent laughter of his mount as it gazes upon its sprawling victim? No matter what psychology has to say, the average human being knows that a laugh is an exaggerated smile, and that if a sudden idea is surprising and funny above the average a smile will not do. Relief is to be had only through a genuine stomach-shaking laugh. Both Prof. Aveling and Dr. Bolton are wrong. Laughter can not be reduced to scientific explanations, for it is simply a safety valve given man and animals to prevent explosion when their risibles are suddenly set off. Perhaps such an explanation will not suit pedagogical minds. If so, let them laugh it off.

CHICAGO'S MAYOR—BOOM!

William Hale Thompson 3d, dynamic and spectacular Mayor of Chicago, is up to further mischief. Big Bill, as the millions residing in the Windy City know him, believes firmly that the Middle West constitutes the heart of the Nation and that were it not for the Mississippi Valley the United States would still be a dependent and feeble country instead of a great power. And Big Bill believes further that he has become leader of this area—that he is its protector, defender and mouthpiece.

On Tuesday next, fittingly enthroned in two private railway cars, accompanied by eight trained boosters and liberally supplied with printed matter, he will start out on a preliminary tour of nine Western States, delivering addresses in eleven key cities and at any other points where audiences may assemble along the route, for the purpose, as he himself says, of "helping to make a President of the United States." His platform is as follows:

- First—America first.
- Second—Farm relief.
- Third—Inland waterways.
- Fourth—Flood relief.

A simple platform, easy enough for even a child to understand; fundamentally, as far as politics are concerned, sound. A statement of principle to which no one could take exception. A bait thrown out to entice the powerful rural vote. A pledge to work for a cause which the entire inland country has long held vital. An extension of aid to a vast territory in which flood waters are a recent terrifying memory. A fly-paper platform calculated to ensnare "the peepul."

Big Bill has said repeatedly that Coolidge is one of the best friends the Middle West could hope to have in the White House. Now that Coolidge has declined to run again, Thompson believes that it is his bounden duty to make certain that a man who thinks along similar lines and who, in addition, will be willing to assume the Thompson four-plank platform shall fall heir to the Republican presidential toga.

First, last and always Mayor Thompson is a showman. Thinking people may laugh at him, leaders of his party may look upon his cavortings with ridicule, but the fact remains that the mass of the people like showmanship, and Big Bill is a voice in the political wilderness that will be heard. Who will be his choice for 1928? Who can execute the Thompson program better than its author? How can Big Bill fail to come out for himself?

SWEITZER, SWISS AND SWITZERLAND.

Hereafter the lover of the genuine article known as "Swiss" cheese can feel assured that the component part of chief value in his sandwich is really the product of the land of William Tell only by insisting on a sight at the rind. It will not do to conclude that because the "fromage" is as big as the wheel of a lumber wagon and the holes the size of silver dollars it is really Swiss cheese. The rind must be branded with the words "Switzerland Cheese."

This is the information sent out from the consulate general of Switzerland. The change in name is the result of deep study on the part of the milk producers, cheese manufacturers and exporters of Helvetia, who have viewed with alarm the inroads made by other countries into Switzerland's trade, through the manufacture of cheese which they call "Swiss" but which never was in Switzerland. To protect themselves these sturdy people have recorded the name with the International Patent Union and the United States Patent Office, and from this time forward he who hungers for a cheese sandwich will do well to refrain from calling for a "Switzer" or a "Swiss." He will insist that the cheese itself be rolled in for his inspection, realizing that his only safety rests in his ability to see for himself that it is "Switzerland" and not simply "Swiss" or "Switzer" that the waiter has brought to the table.

In order that every cheese eater may be educated up to the new departure, the consulate announces the advent of an advertising campaign throughout the United States. "Look at the brand, not at the hole" is suggested as a slogan.

THE MOVIE STRIKE.

Hourly the Chicago picture theater strike gives evidence of spreading. Starting in a theater which, because of a change in its type of program presentation, discharged two operators of the four required by union rules, it developed into a lockout against operators of machines in all houses members of the Chicago Movie Owners' Association. Union officials say they have in mind calling a strike in all houses throughout the country affiliated in circuits or by ownership with the Chicago houses. Trouble seems imminent in Los Angeles, Minneapolis, Decatur, Springfield, Sedalia and several other cities. In the meantime efforts by Government conciliators and representatives of Will Hays to initiate arbitration proceedings have met with no success.

Fortunately no basic industry is involved in this controversy. So far as actual necessities are concerned the moving picture houses could remain closed indefinitely without ill effect upon the public. On the other hand, recreation is almost as important to the individual as bread or meat and thousands in Chicago are being deprived of their only means of obtaining it.

In this dispute, as in all others, great monetary losses will be suffered by both sides. Already it is said that the loss in revenue has approximated $750,000. Somewhere there must be a basis for settlement of controversial points, and both managers and the union should hasten to find it. Nothing is to be gained by prolonging the controversy. While it continues everybody, including the public, loses.

Brooklyn Citizen: President Coolidge, now that he has announced his determination not to be a candidate for renomination in 1928, is beginning, it is said, to enjoy his vacation thoroughly at Rapid City. New York Times: The drys are one with the trimming politicians in desiring that prohibition be kept "non-partisan" in national politics. Politicians are afraid to touch it. The drys assume that "the American people have settled" it by the eighteenth amendment. Anybody who is dissatisfied with the Volstead law as a practicable and sensible interpretation of the amendment is disqualified for the Presidency. Yet every modificationist stands for the enforcement of this law until it is changed, if it can be changed. A President hoping for such a change would inevitably try to execute this statute with particular assiduity.

The Thing Is to Forget

By ROBERT QUILEN

WITHIN this decade the magazines have begun to print advertisements of numerous courses in memory training, and the idea is current that a faultless memory is greatly to be desired.

The reverse is more frequently true. The things that can be remembered with profit are less numerous than the things one may forget with more profit than loss. A man who is poor loses a purse containing his month's earnings. The money is needed to pay the rent and to buy clothes and food for his family. The loss of it is tragedy.

He curses; he grieves; almost he weeps. And yet within another month he has adjusted himself to new conditions imposed by the loss and Richard is himself again. To remember would be to handicap himself; he forgets because nature is kind.

The same truth holds in case of more serious losses. One's mate dies, or one's child, and for a little while grief makes all other things in life seem trivial. If a faultless memory kept our sorrows green, there would be few smiles.

The bereaved do remember, but the passing years make sorrow itself a treasure and purge grief of its bitterness. Nor are the hurts all that need forgetting. Few reach maturity without acquaintance with shame. The sins and faults and follies of yesterday would crush man's spirit today and keep his head bent and his heart heavy if they were kept alive in his memory.

If today he seems full of courage and ready to face the world with proud eyes, it is because he has forgotten. He would cringe before the most lowly if memory stalked at his side to remind him constantly of his mistakes.

Remember the name and address of the man you met last year—telephone numbers—engagements—vital statistics? Very well. But God be merciful and help us to forget the other things.

(Copyright, 1927.)

There is a tribute to human nature in the thought that it is as difficult to dislike people as it is to please people. You must give him the benefit of the doubt when he says: "A number of friends dropped in last evening to hear the radio program and the reception was wonderful."

Whatever else you may say about modern young people avoid the cruelty of calling them slow. That would really hurt.

gree "off color." Very often a serial magazine story when later published in book form will show striking differences in text in the book version. The magazines will not allow the author to run riot with his sex ideas. But the book publishers are not so scrupulous. The fact that no really "daring" book has yet become a best seller seems to show that the magazine editors know the public taste better than the book publishers.

His Brother's Keeper.
Atchison Globe: It is easy to suspect that almost any other person's soul needs saving.

Some Day.
Meriden Journal: Some day there's going to be a tidal wave. Then some of those ladies on the beach are going to get wet.

Sign of Decadence.
New York Sun: Grave violence is done to the traditions of the blue-shirted fire fighters by the demand of the Woodmere firemen for permission to play cards in their engine house. Checkers is the proper game for professional firemen; dominoes is tolerable and chess is allowed, but the devil's picture books are associated with the red shirts, not with the blue.

Money For Planes.
Philadelphia Public Ledger: Is our Uncle Samuel stingy when he sets aside money for aviation? Col. Mitchell would say yes. There are many aviation enthusiasts who think as does Col. Mitchell. Professional alarmists insist that we are so nigardly in providing for our aerial defenses that we would be utterly helpless if assailed by any first-class air power. However, the figures themselves are the best answer. Congress, in its last session, appropri-

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Biggest Thing in the Universe.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: There gleams in the lower Southern firmament a red, radiant sun, named Antares. We all have heard of the planet Mars, and Antares was so named because it resembled Mars in color. Red Antares glitters and gleams against the stary background of the constellation Scorpio, a constellation lying between Libra and Sagittarius. Just eastward from Antares, there glimmers the dim and distant Milky Way. Above Antares, we see the yellowish plane Saturn.

Antares of Scorpio possesses a companion star of the seventh magnitude. This small star exhibits a bluish color. Antares, like the others stars of night is remote from us. In fact, its light rays travel swiftly for more than three centuries to reach us. Astronomers estimate it to be the vastest sun yet discovered and its luminosity to be about 3,500 times that of our own sun. Accordingly, although Antares is so remote, it has been ranked as the seven hundredth brightest star of night.

Antares has been called the "Scorpion's Heart." Respecting this, an ancient astronomer wrote: "The heart with luster of amazing force. Refulgent vibrates; faint the other parts. And ill-defined by stars of meaner note."

Watson for President.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: I, Jim Watson, like Barkis, is willing. There are a number of other gentlemen just as willing as Watson, and some of them not half as good presidential timber as the Hoosier statesman. Watson has had long experience in national affairs; there is none more conversant with what the country needs, what the people want, than Watson. He not only is conversant with conditions here, but he is also well informed of how matters stand in other lands, and the connection the United States has with those conditions. He is sound in his Republicanism and sound in his loyalty to the country.

Watson is a great organizer, knowing every twist and turn in political management. He was trained up under that master political manager, the great war governor and senator, Oliver P. Morton. He has never been a waverer, never tried to "kick over the traces." He has always been a steady, fast believer in the policies of the Republican party as handed down by Lincoln. He has never swerved in his devotion to them. He believes they are the best for the country, and in his hands they would be safe. He believes the country should maintain an adequate Navy, that we should be on friendly terms with all other nations, but should avoid entangling alliances with any of them.

His party could go further and fare much worse than in nominating Jim Watson.

Brain Tests and Marriage.

Philadelphia Record: A professor of vocational training told a class of young women to make brain tests of young men they were interested in because selecting a husband is more important than being able to make bread. In these days of vast bakeries and omnibuses, present delicatessen shops and omnibuses, but would the intellectuality of the young men increase their disposition to matrimony, and shouldn't the girls apply some brain tests to themselves? The learned professor told the girls that the brain was as essential in marriage as it is in business, but this is a manifest absurdity. Matrimony can get along very well on emotions, but business can't. And, finally, there is nothing more futile than giving young people advice about marriage.

CRUISER FOR WILLIAMS
APPROVED BY COOLIDGE

Arrangement Will Give Air
Racer Quick Transportation to Venice.

LINDBERGH OVER CITY

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

Rapid City, S. Dak., Sept. 2.—Lieut. Alfred Williams, the Navy's air racer, will be transported to the Schneider cup races at Venice, Italy, on a cruiser. While the President at first was not sympathetic to this proposal he has been advised by the Navy Department that unless this was done the flier would not be able to reach Venice in time, and Mr. Coolidge now has no objections.

The races are to be held the latter part of this month and at that time the Navy, through Williams, is to seek to wrest back the trophy which it lost to Italy last year. Lieut. Williams had been practicing more than a year in a specially constructed plane. At tests made at Long Island recently it is understood the plane made more than 200 miles an hour.

The President made known his decision to let a cruiser take the flier to Venice shortly after getting a view of Lindbergh, who today swept unexpectedly over the summer Capital and dropped a message of greeting to the people of the city. The famous transatlantic flier was en route from Pella, S. Cheyenne, Wyo., on his Western tour. He first appeared over the Lodge, 32 miles away, but both the President and Mrs. Coolidge were in town.

When he flew over Rapid City, Mrs. Coolidge was in a store shopping. She ran out with the other excited citizens, craned her neck and waved. Lindbergh was less than 500 feet from the ground in his Spirit of St. Louis. Then the flier circled low over the school house executive offices several times. The President was out having his picture taken and gave the flier a friendly wave. Then the lone eagle disappeared.

NAVY HELD UNABLE TO HELP HUNT FOR ST. RAPHAEL PLANE

Acting Secretary Says That Lack of Data on Probable Descent Reason.

COOPERATION IS READY IF ASKED BY BRITISH

Prevailing Weather Is Pronounced Comparable to That Byrd Encountered.

(Associated Press.) Lack of information as to the likely whereabouts of the descent of the missing St. Raphael plane renders it virtually impossible for the American Navy to engage in a search for the fliers, Acting Secretary Warner of the Navy said yesterday.

The situation is very similar to that created by the disappearance of Nungesser and Gail, and Redfern, he declared, and the area to be searched would be far too long for even the whole of the American Navy to undertake.

The Secretary indicated, however, that if either British or Canadian authorities should request assistance the Navy would lend a hand.

Weather conditions along the path of the St. Raphael expected to follow from England to Canada are believed by naval hydrographers here to have been comparable in part to that encountered by Lieut. Comdr. Byrd at the time of his landing at Ver-Sur-Mer on the French coast earlier in the summer.

Lieut. Earle H. Kincard, of the naval hydrographic office, after a study of Weather Bureau reports, estimated that along the announced route cross-winds of about 18 miles an hour prevailed and then to the south of the route from between 13 to 18 miles per hour, perhaps reaching 25 miles at flying altitude.

Would Cut Plane Speed.

"From longitude 40 to Newfoundland," he said, "northwest cross winds probably were encountered at forces from 12 to 24 miles. On the assumption that the plane was capable of making 92 miles an hour, the speed would have been cut down so that it would have been in the longitude of Newfoundland at about 7:30 Eastern standard time this morning.

"A great deal of what the plane passed through could be compared with that Commander Byrd experienced on his summer flight from New York to Paris. Astronomical navigation would have been just about as difficult as for Byrd, with the exception that the weather toward the end of this flight (the St. Raphael's) was favorable, whereas Byrd landed in the middle of a storm.

"Head winds should prevail over the ocean, with the added possibility of a 'low' now developing east of the Virginia capes, being encountered over Newfoundland. Such a condition will make identification of land marks difficult."

Lieut. Kincard added that this "low" might affect any immediate flights eastward.

U. S. Holds 20 Records in Air Warner Claims

Commenting on press reports that the United States holds 16 out of 84 aviation records, Acting Secretary of the Navy Warner explained yesterday, that when recent records of American aviators are certified by headquarters of the Federation Aeronautique Internationale at Paris, it will be seen that the United States holds 20 of the 62 regular airplane and seaplane records. The total of 84 covers records for helicopters, gliders, balloons, refueling in flight and light plane classes.

He explained further that European records should be certified at Paris in less time than those forwarded from the United States.

Lindbergh, in Flight, Greeted by Coolidge

Rapid City, S. Dak., Sept. 2 (A.P.).—President Coolidge waved a greeting to Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, when the latter flew his Spirit of St. Louis over Rapid City today, en route to Cheyenne, Wyo., from Pierre.

Circling over the local high school building where the President's executive offices are maintained, the transatlantic flier was spotted by the President, who happened to be outside posing for a picture. Blowing whistles and a cheering throng greeted "We" and the flying colonel dropped a message to graphed message to Rapid City after flying over the summer White House near here.

Wind Is Westerly Every Day To Back Fliers, Expert Says

British Meteorologist Explains How Perpetual Fog Also Operates to Prevent Europe-America Flights at This Stage of Science.

London, Sept. 2 (A.P.).—Using twin weapons, wind and fog, Nature steadfastly opposes air flights from Europe to America, an expert of the British meteorological office told the Associated Press today.

"For 365 days in the year weather conditions operate to defeat east to west ventures which have baffled the boldest pilots of the air. A great factor is the wind," said the British meteorologist, apropos of the attempt of Princess Lowenstein-Wertheim and her flying companions, Col. P. F. Minchin and Capt. Leslie Hamilton, to fly to America.

"It is a fact well known to the world's meteorologists that the wind in the Atlantic is perpetually westerly. It is variable, its currents veering from southwest to direct west, then north-west, but all he year round fliers from Europe will encounter this wind. Its velocity varies, of course, with the months, but it is rarely less than 15 miles an hour, and frequently touches 50."

"A second factor which prejudices such flights is the fog bank which perpetually exists in either aggravated or slight condition off Newfoundland. At no time in the year is this fog bank entirely clear."

The best chances for an Atlantic flight from England, the observer said, are to be found on the southern route. In four months of the year wind and temperature from England to the Azores are favorable, while thence to Newfoundland or direct to the United States the prevailing westerly wind can be "cut across" so that loss of power from battling head winds will be diminished considerably. There is also less fog about Newfoundland approaching from the southerly route and this enemy is virtually absent if the plane wings its way direct to New York from the Azores.

of petrol. It has no wireless, but will be equipped with a collapsible rubber boat.

The airman expect to make the crossing in 32 to 35 hours and announced that they would circle over New York on their arrival and then proceed to Philadelphia.

Byrd will remain in New York, they said, but the other two, after a few days in the United States plan to take off for home in an effort to break the endurance record.

Marine Corps pilot is 32 years old, has 13 years' flying experience. He is an Imperial Airways pilot between London and Paris.

French Planes Ready Soon.

Le Bourget, Sept. 2 (A.P.).—French transatlantic fliers will take a day off tomorrow. Announcement that there would be no flights attempted Saturday morning came somewhat as a disappointment to boulevardiers, men and women about town, who for the month have acquired a habit of proceeding to Le Bourget in the early hours of the morning as they formerly went to the Bois de Boulogne, but to harassed mechanics, officials and newspaper men the news was welcome.

The Bluebird, after a flight that failed today, will need retouching in its stabilizing mechanism, its engine equipment. Farman Brothers, builders of the plane, and their technical men had a long conference with Pilots Leon Givon and Pierre Corbu, who were forced back by fog after starting for America today. It was decided to make necessary changes Saturday, and it was expected that the plane would be ready to try again Sunday.

MARRIED TO GET RID OF THEM, SAYS MAN

One Wife in New Jersey, Another in South Carolina, He Declares.

Headquarters detectives last night listened in amazement when John Edward Anderson, 28 years old, of 233 Pennsylvania avenue northwest, arrested on a warrant charging non-support, told them how he had married two women "to get rid of them."

Anderson, who was employed as a laborer on the Memorial Bridge, now under construction across the Potomac River, admitted being married to Mrs. Grace Anderson, mother of three children, in Lakewood, N. J., wife No. 1, and to Miss Fannie Eller Ward, in Dilons, S. C., wife No. 2, Anderson was arrested on complaint of his wife in New Jersey, who charged him with leaving her and her three children destitute more than a year ago.

Anderson said he married the Ward girl because he couldn't get rid of her any other way. Shortly after his last marriage Anderson told the detectives he came to Washington, he was arrested by Detectives DuBuskey and Messer while at work yesterday. He will be taken back to New Jersey today.

155 PILOTS ENTERED IN SPOKANE DERBIES

Fourteen Planes to Take Part in the Cross-Country Race From New York.

Spokane, Wash., Sept. 2 (A.P.).—A total of 155 military and civilian pilots have filed application with the National Air Derby Association of this city for participation in the air derbies from New York and San Francisco to Spokane, the nonstop race from New York and the national air races here September 23 and 24. Ten days remain during which applications will be received.

Fourteen planes have been entered for the $10,000 nonstop flight across the continent, which starts September 21. For the Class A New York-Spokane air derby seven planes have been entered, and for the Class B derby eight have made application.

Outstanding among the military entries is a fleet of the planes from the first pursuit group, Selfridge Field, Mich. These will be flown to Spokane along with two observation planes, carrying mechanics. A number of planes representing the Navy and the Marine Corps also have been promised as entries in the air races.

Los Angeles Makes A Post-Repair Flight

Lakehurst, N. J., Sept. 2 (A.P.).—The Navy dirigible Los Angeles returned to the air station after this evening after a successful post-repair flight, the first undertaken since June 11, when it was laid up.

The giant craft was berthed safely in its hangar at 9:30 o'clock. Rear Admiral W. A. Moffett, chief of the Bureau of Aeronautics, who was aboard as a passenger, and Lieut. Comdr. Charles E. Rosendahl, skipper of the Los Angeles, expressed themselves as well satisfied with the ship's performance.

Its flight was north along the coast to the vicinity of Staten Island, where it maneuvered about most of the day.

Gov. Christianon Has Operation.

Rochester, Minn., Sept. 2 (A.P.).—Gov. Theodore Christianon of Minnesota, was operated on successfully here today for removal of a stone from his right kidney, and attending surgeons said he was recuperating rapidly.

RUBBER RAFT INFLATED TO BACK BRITISH CRAFTERS IN THE SEA

Craft Would Not Float Long in Bad Weather However, Londoners Admit.

GREAT CROWDS AWAIT WORD OF THEIR SAFETY

Canadian Radio Stations Still Broadcasting for News of Expedition.

London, Sept. 2 (A.P.).—Anxiety deepened today for the safety of the transatlantic plane St. Raphael, the aviators, Capt. Hamilton and Col. Minchin, and their princess passenger.

The plane, which left at sea, what ever hope exists here is based on the rubber boat which the St. Raphael carried, for it is believed that the experience was recalled of Harry Hawker, the British aviator, who was rescued in mid-ocean by a steamer in May, 1919, while on a transatlantic flight from St. John's, Newfoundland, to Ireland. It was felt by some that the St. Raphael crew might have been picked up in a similar manner if the were forced down.

Nothing could bring greater relief than reliable news that the fliers are safe, for apart from the humane desire in this respect, there is great admiration for the pluck of Princess Lowenstein-Wertheim, who is better known as a social figure than as an aviator. In a flight of 90 minutes an average above 100 miles per hour was maintained, but the plane gave an indication of the danger which it was named when it was caught in a squall and now needs some slight additional stabilization.

All three planes will be ready Sunday morning, it was announced, with the final decision resting with the weather man.

Canadian Flying Controller Urges Regulating Stunts

Special to The Washington Post.

Ottawa, Ontario, Sept. 2.—An official of the Dominion air board today recommended that stunt flying, such as transatlantic flights for prizes, be discouraged.

The official, who is J. A. Wilson, controller of civil aviation, said that the action results from the St. Raphael being added to the missing airplanes making such trips. The subject will be taken up by the air board of the national defense department and if the board has not the necessary authority, legislation will be asked.

FLARES ON PACIFIC REPORTED BY STEAMER

Two-Hour Search Made in Hope They Were Lighted by Missing Aviators.

Honolulu, Sept. 2 (A.P.).—Three red flares seen by the crew of the steamship City of Honolulu Wednesday night caused a futile search of two hours by the vessel in the hope that they might have been lighted by the missing Dole plane.

The officers of the steamship, which arrived today from Los Angeles, reported that the flares had been seen at 8:30 p. m. Wednesday, 1,000 miles from Honolulu. The ship's course was changed and it speeded in the direction of the flares. Searchlights were played upon the ocean for two hours before the steamer put back upon its course.

The lookout reported seeing a naval destroyer upon the horizon, whereupon the officers decided that the destroyer was searching for the planes and had used flares as signals.

ROUND-WORLD PLANE IS LANDED AT BAGDAD

A wisp of smoke trailing the left wing, "I don't know what caused the fire," he said, "but it was either from the exhaust or friction." The wing was not seriously damaged by fire, but the tail-end was smashed somewhat in landing.

Wood seemed confident he and Schiller would make a successful crossing and promised that they would keep a sharp watch both along the coast and at sea for the missing St. Raphael plane.

Calcutta, Me., Sept. 2 (A.P.).—With fog as well as rain prevailing here and fog reported at Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, the next scheduled stopping place, late today the prospect that the monoplane Sir John Carling would resume its interrupted flight from London, Ontario, to London, England, tomorrow were considered dubious.

Old Glory Blocked by Wind.

Roosevelt Field, N. Y., Sept. 2 (A.P.).—Old Glory's flight to Rome was postponed again today when the wind failed to blow from the west. With other atmospheric conditions favorable it was hoped that the wind might swing around tomorrow so that a hop-off might be made then.

A plan conceived early today to postpone the Rome flight to search for the Princess Lowenstein-Wertheim was given up when weather conditions improved.

It was decided, instead, to continue preparations for the flight to Rome and to watch for the princess on the way.

VIRGINIA PLANE CRASH CLAIMS SECOND LIFE

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 2 (A.P.).—The airplane crash at East Camp yesterday, in which Ensign Ward E. Pierce, naval reserve aviator, was killed, took also the life of Harvey Elkins, fireman, first class, a passenger in the observation plane in which Pierce was practicing landings. Elkins, whose skull was fractured, died at the Naval Hospital today.

Ensign Pierce was bringing the two-seater to the ground for the second time when the accident occurred. About 100 feet above the earth it turned over and then dropped. The pilot's neck was broken. His passenger, unconscious, was taken to the hospital.

A board of inquiry composed of officers of naval air units at the Hampton Roads Station is preparing to hold an investigation. Ensign Pierce, 27, lived at Portland, Ore. His passenger, 23, lived at Louisville, Ky., and was on duty at the air station here.

Rubber Raft Inflated In Drop From Airplane

Quantico, Va., Sept. 2 (A.P.).—Corporal Richard L. Huffman, Marine Corps, inflated a collapsible rubber raft while falling 3,000 feet from an airplane to the Potomac River here today, dropped it and released himself from his parachute when near the water. He then climbed aboard and rowed to safety.

The feat was accomplished in testing the advisability of including such rafts as standard equipment for aviators flying over water. It was sanctioned by Rear Admiral Moffett, naval air chief, and carried out by Marine aviators under Maj. C. E. Ruiz.

Huffman, who comes from St. Clairsville, Ohio, jumped from a training plane piloted by Lieut. V. M. Guymon, of Salt Lake City, Utah. When his parachute opened 75 feet lower, he unpacked the raft and inflated it with tubes of carbon dioxide.

POSTMASTER HELPED BEER GRAFT, HE ADMITS

Tells Commissioner He Took In Money for the Missing State's Attorney.

Chicago, Sept. 2 (A.P.).—Postmaster N. F. Stellan, of McHenry, Ill., today told United States Commissioner Henry C. Butler that he had acted as "pay-off" man in an alleged police protection plan in McHenry County between a bootlegger and Alfred H. Pouse, missing McHenry County State's attorney.

Stellan, Pouse, former Sheriff Lester Edginger and two others are charged with conspiracy to violate the prohibition law and with graft in McHenry County.

Declaring that he did not expect to be postmaster after today, Stellan, when arraigned before Commissioner Butler, said that he had collected approximately $2,000 from a bootlegger for Pouse for police protection. He also admitted that Pouse had collected at least $10,000 from other sources in connection with the alleged police protection for bootleggers.

"The entire transaction, as far as I can remember, Stellan said, began a couple of years ago when Fred Wein-schenker, a resort owner, complained to me that he was unable to break into the beer-selling business of the county because of the closed shop conditions existing there. He then asked me if I couldn't see Pouse and ask him if something could be done about it."

Stellan then said that Pouse agreed to insure "police protection" if Wein-schenker paid $10 a hotel for bootlegging. He said the fee was paid and that he turned all of it over to Pouse except $187.50, which, he said, he put in his own pocket and then stopped making collections.

United States District Attorney George Johnson today said that he had been told by several Chicago newspaper editors that "Pouse and former Sheriff Edginger were tutored in the way of graft and bribe collections from willing bootleggers by two notorious Chicago beer-runners, the late Hymie Weiss and "Dapper Dan" McCarthy."

These two men, he said, had been held in the McHenry jail several years ago.

Vast Power of Press Conceded by Delegates

Geneva, Switzerland, Sept. 2 (A.P.).—The feature of the meeting of the Council of the League of Nations today was the formal recognition by all its members of the immense power of the press.

Basing their remarks on the recent successful international press conference here, men like Gustav Stresemann, German foreign minister; Paul Boncour, French statesman; Sir Austen Chamberlain, British secretary for foreign affairs, and Mineichiro Adachi, Japanese Ambassador to France, dwelt successfully on the tremendous responsibility of the press. Like their colleagues they pledged themselves to forward in every way possible the press conference resolutions, which treat with such matters as improvement of international communication, reduction of press rates, protection of news against piracy and the elimination of all censorship except in wartime.

Herr Stresemann, who has learned of the power of the press in Germany, emphasized that press delegates occasionally had found some difficulty in obtaining unanimity. He then uttered a phrase which was creating great interest in Geneva tonight: "Compromise is not a sign of feebleness, but of wisdom."

He added to this an expression of the hope that newspaper men would collaborate with politicians to achieve a smoother running of international affairs.

Sir Austen Chamberlain referred particularly to the press conference resolution to contribute to the consolidation of peace by the reduction of barriers between nationalities and thus prepare for moral disarmament.

"The collaboration of the press in such a work is of equal consequence and may be even of greater influence than anything statesmen can do," declared Sir Austen.

REDERN FAMILY CLINGS TO HOPE GEAR SAVED HIM

Friends Point Out Elaborate Emergency Equipment His Plane Carried.

COULD SUBSIST IN JUNGLE

Brunswick, Ga., Sept. 2 (A.P.).—While the governments of British Guiana, Venezuela and Brazil today extended their search for Paul Redfern, a Brunswick-to-Brazil flier, friends who have not despaired of his safety recounted again the emergency equipment by means of which the young flier hoped to subsist and sustain himself indefinitely.

These friends believe that Redfern will come trekking out of some isolated section of South America with an unrivaled story to tell. They point out that the Port of Brunswick was equipped with a parachute easily accessible to the aviator and provided with an attachment to which Redfern could buckle his entire store of emergency needs.

If the plane fell into the sea, Redfern planned to empty his gasoline tank and render the ship buoyant. Then he would inflate his rubber boat and take to that if the plane sank. The boat was unusable unless punctured. If Redfern landed safely in the jungle, he still has about three days concentrated food supply, and with the use of his rifle he could bag some small game.

Confident that reports from ships and from natives that the monoplane was seen in the vicinity of Venezuela and afterward flying over the Orinoco River delta are true, friends look for Redfern to appear at some settlement soon, provided he was unhurt when forced to bring down the Port of Brunswick.

Mrs. Redfern, who is visiting at the home of her husband's father in Columbia, S. C., shares the viewpoint of these friends, although she continues greatly distressed because there has been no news.

Rio Janeiro, Sept. 2 (A.P.).—The National Telegraph tonight issued the following statement regarding the search for the American aviator, Paul Redfern:

"None of our northern stations was able to obtain any news today of Redfern's fate. It is reported that small expeditions are advancing northward towards the Guianas, but they have not reported tracing, the route or location of the aviator."

Colorado Springs, Colo., Sept. 2 (A.P.).—Leaders in the petroleum industry will confer here September 11 on problems arising from overproduction of oil and the resultant slump in prices. Notice of the conference was received today from W. W. Garland, president of the Marland Oil Co.

14 OCEAN FLIERS MISSING AFTER RECENT EFFORTS

Two Women Among Those Who Have Apparently Lost Their Lives.

SEA HIDES ALL TRACE

New York, Sept. 2 (A.P.).—The 62-year-old Princess Anne Lowenstein-Wertheim is the second woman to disappear in an attempted transatlantic flight within the space of a little over two weeks. The first was Miss Mildred Doran, passenger in one of the planes participating in the Dole prize race from Oakland, Calif., to Hawaii.

A list of those fliers, other than the princess' companions, Capt. Leslie Hamilton and Col. P. F. Minchin, who have disappeared at sea during the present flying season, follows:

Capt. Charles Nungesser and Capt. Francis Col. left Le Bourget May 8 for New York in a flight for the Orteig prize, subsequently won by Col. Charles A. Lindbergh.

Capt. Saint-Roman and Commander Mouneyres left St. Louis, Senegal, May 5 for Pernambuco on a flight from France to Buenos Aires.

John A. Pech of Flint, Mich.; Lieut. V. R. Knope, navigator, and Miss Mildred Doran, Michigan school-teacher, in the plane Miss Doran left Oakland, Calif., August 16 for Hawaii in the Dole prize flight.

Jack Frost, of New York, and Gordon Scott, of Santa Ana, Calif., left Oakland August 16 for Hawaii in the Dole prize flight.

William P. Erwin, of Chicago, and Alvin H. Eichwald left Oakland August 18 in search of missing competitors in the Dole flight.

More than 70 and are mostly heads of northern villages who were involved in the outbreaks of last November.

The correspondent says the amnesty decree is seen as an invitation for a compromise with the Catholics, especially, he says, since the priests who fled abroad because of accusations of political offences, now will be allowed to reenter the country.

Man, Woman Hurt As Gasoline Burns

Rushing to the aid of a neighbor whose life was endangered last night when gasoline with which she had been cleaning caught fire, Gabriel Michael, 46 years old, 3310 Prospect avenue northwest, was burned on both hands, neck, face and right arm while beating out the flames which burned both hands of Mrs. Annie Amouri, 43 years old, of 3416 Prospect avenue northwest.

Michael was treated at Georgetown Hospital and later returned to his home, but Mrs. Amouri refused hospital treatment. Mrs. Amouri was cleaning a dress in the dining room when shortly before 9 o'clock, when in some unaccountable manner the gasoline became ignited, setting fire to the dress and scorching Mrs. Amouri's clothing. Michael, hearing screams, rushed into the home, smothered the flames and aided firemen in combating the fire, which caused damage estimated at $150.

Wives of Tomorrow

By FRANCES McDONALD

Poor Material.

MY Dear Miss McDonald: I am 30 years old, and expect to be married in the fall to a man of 27. I do not look but 25, but my friends discourage me and tell me I am very foolish to marry him because of the difference in age.

They also disapprove of his business—being a salesman. They say such ridiculous things that I am very much discouraged, and feel I am doing wrong to marry him. I have been told that he has a great eye for the ladies, which I myself have noticed. If we are to get together he will stare at girls so that it makes me feel so embarrassed I just could weep. I am not jealous of him at all, since I am considered pretty and am quite attractive to other women. I have been told that he is quite jolly among his friends, but with me he is very gloomy. I have observed many marriages, and among them I find that rakish looking and acting men are married to beautiful women, but have no use for them except to keep an open door where they can come home to sleep. As a rule, these men are never at home, and they will struggle in vain to get their old time back. I am trying to avoid all this if possible. I love a nice home and babies, and am quite able to maintain a home if my husband will share it. Do you think it will be wise for me to marry or wait? I will greatly appreciate your answer.

Sincerely, VIOLETTE.
Your prospects of happiness are almost zero. Not because you are 30 and he is 27. That is an insignificant matter. In fact, between people aesthetically mated, age means nothing at all. But as I see your situation you are about to marry without respect, without trust, with even a trace of contempt. How can you be happy? Personally, I believe you should certainly wait. Not because the man is a salesman, for we are all selling something to the world. And most salesmen have more brains than the poor souls who condemn a whole class for the faults of a minority of its members. But the man's profession is not on trial. But his character is. He sounds like poor material as a life partner. He might, and probably would, be perfectly faithful to his wife. But if he is the sort of inferior make-out stare after women—who would want him for life, faithful or otherwise? He is second-grade merchandise. Pass him up.

Now, one thing in your letter I can not allow to pass unchallenged. You say "since I am pretty, why should other women attract him?" Erase from your mind the impression that once a man loves a certain woman he ceases to be aware that other women are at large. He does not cease to exercise all his faculties because he is in love. Your husband will find other women attractive—be he a salesman or president. But if he is mentally developed he will not evidence his zest by yoking stares. Don't rush into marriage because you are 30. Don't be swayed by the comments of friends. Pick your man and marry him because you want him and because he is worth wanting.

BEAUTY AND YOU

By VIOLA PARIS

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ABOUT THE HAIR.

Dear Viola Paris: My hair is very light, and the least bit of oil makes it look like an oil mop. I have been washing my hair every few days. Is it harmful to wash my hair so often? I have used a shampoo for light hair and it gives a lovely effect, but within a day or so the oil spoils the color.

MICKY.
Answer: Of course, you need to wash your hair too often. Shampoos more frequent than every two weeks only aggravate the oily condition of the scalp. What you need is an astringent for the scalp. This should be applied each day.

Dear Viola Paris: I am 11 years old and, because my hair is oily, it is hard for mother to wash it. What can we do to correct this?

I. E. S.
Answer: First, don't make the common error of washing your hair too often. Once every two weeks is about right. The night before the hair is washed, a combination of 6 ounces of gerose castor oil and 2 tablespoons of gerose can be massaged into the scalp with the finger tips. Or, if you prefer, warm olive oil will serve the purpose very well. Wash the hair the next morning. Always be sure to rinse every vestige of lather from your hair, and never rub the cake of soap directly on the scalp. Let your hair have all the sunlight and fresh air possible.

Ann: You will find the above directions suitable for your hair. Shampoo every two weeks. Between shampoos you may use a drying tonic, preferably one compounded for light hair.

Dear Viola Paris: Will you please tell me what I can do to my hair to make it soft and glossy? Ever since my baby came, my hair has been falling out terribly. It is also very dry and lifeless looking. I wash it with tar soap.

Answer: The oil treatment outlined in my answer to I. E. S. should precede your shampoo. It is especially important that your hair be thoroughly rinsed of soap. A tonic made with oil would strengthen your hair and bring out its natural beauty. The soap that you are using is excellent.

Alice Q: Give the hot oil a fair trial—I have known it to be beneficial whenever hair roots existed. For dandruff a correct tonic should be applied nightly.

Answer to Mrs. H. N. B. G.: Premature graying can almost always be traced to some lack in general health, which causes the debility of the color cells at the roots of the hair. In the early stages of fading, a stimulating tonic will sometimes restore the giving off of pigment. Scalp massage done with the finger tips daily, is helpful. Your hair should be washed the next morning. Always be sure to rinse every vestige of lather from your hair, and never rub the cake of soap directly on South Declarer, Contract, No Trump. To the first trick West led Jack of Hearts; North played Trick of Hearts; East, Six of Hearts; South, Queen of Hearts.

To the second trick South should lead Trey of Spades; West play Four of Spades; North Jack of Spades; East Deuce of Spades.

South's lead to trick 2 is an effort to "steal a grand slam." He has five Club, five Diamond and two Heart tricks assured, a total of 12 tricks. There is no chance of obtaining another trick in either of those three suits, so it would look as if the Ace of Spades must win and that a small Slam would be the maximum. If, however, one Spade trick can be won before the adversaries take in their Ace, a Grand Slam can be made. Of course, this could not be done if the adversaries realized the great strength of Declarer's combined hands; but it is made possible at the start of the hand by leading toward Jack of Spades in Dummy.

If West have Ace of Spades he naturally will play small, hoping that East may take the trick with the King, and lead a Heart which would establish that suit with the Ace of Spades left in the West hand as an entry to make the long Hearts. If the Ace of Spades be held by East it will win but in that event the attempted larceny would not cost anything as South would then have a show down for the small Slam. Mostly players with Declarer's twenty-six cards would face their hands conceding the Ace of Spades and claiming a Small Slam but it is foolish to concede a trick to the adversaries if there be a way in which it may possibly be obtained. This hand is another evidence of the advantage of planning before playing.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. W. A. EVANS

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to hygiene and prevention of disease will be answered in this column. Personal replies will be made to inquiries, under proper limitations. Have the foods that you eat analyzed. Dr. Evans will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual disease.

FUNCTION OF VITAMINS.

JUST now the accepted opinion is that there are five vitamins each of which have the capacity to produce a determined amount of the welfare of the individual and of the race is to be conserved. The need is of a different sort from the need of the vitamins. The need of the vitamins is not so easily understood. They have been compared to the spark plug in automobiles. The basis of this is that they release the energy of other things. Another comparison is to the cap which fires the gun. They have been compared with the action of yeasts and ferments. They have been called protective substances, and some of them do protect the body in some mysterious way.

Vitamin A is known as the fat soluble growth principle. It is a substance which is soluble in grease and is usually found in the fat cells of animals and plants. It is stored there by the action of sunlight. This principle promotes growth in the young and contributes to well-being in persons of all ages.

Vitamin D is also a fat soluble substance, which is needed as a protection against rickets. It is especially needed by the young, though adults find it helpful in warding off pneumonia, consumption, colds and that line of infections. It is found stored abundantly in the liver of the cod, though that is not the only source of supply.

Vitamin B has two principles and, in time, may come to be recognized as a mixture of two vitamins. It is a water soluble growth principle. Just as A, it contributes to growth and well-being. It is widely distributed in both the animal and the vegetable kingdoms. We are all familiar with the fact that it is found stored abundantly in the liver of the cod, though that is not the only source of supply.

The other quality of B, which may be due to another vitamin mixed with it, is that of protecting against beriberi and various kinds of neuritic aches and pains. Among the Chinese and others who live largely on polished rice, beriberi, a form of very serious neuritis,

The Homemaker

SOMEHOW, Saturday morning has the power to bring before my busy eyes the line of Stevenson's that begins "The day returns, and brings us the petty round of irritating concerns and duties." — not that Stevenson had in mind the duties and concerns of a housewife on a Saturday morning, but the phrase seems strangely to fit the mood of this particular morning—with its overabundance of planning, marketing and cooking.

First of all today, one of the nice letters that have come to my desk requires a reply through the column. Yes, Mrs. L., there are certain foods which are known as "protective foods," and these foods will always be found in our daily menu, which is ever to be a balanced menu, so that those who have not had extensive experience in planning well-balanced menus may use the one found in the column as a guide.

The importance of these "protective foods" to the individual can not be overated. To group them together roughly, they are milk, green or leafy vegetables, eggs and the coarse cereals. One of these days we shall take up the matter of the protective foods in detail in our column. But today is Saturday, therefore market day, and it will be well, I fancy, to go to the business of the day after merely saying that we should, every one of us, have in our diet each day fresh fruit in some form, one raw vegetable and one leafy, cooked vegetable—this in addition to milk, which may be taken in its natural state or as a sauce or other foods. This answers your question, does it not?

And now, our menus—for there are to be two of them.

Conduct and Common Sense

By ANNE SINGLETON

A SOCIAL secretary has written to ask me a question which, she says, was not answered quite to her understanding in our Book of Etiquette. The question has to do with the formal answer to an invitation to a wedding reception. I had said that an answer to an invitation to a large general church wedding was not necessary unless a place was being kept for you, but that an invitation to the reception should be answered; the reason for this being that one guest more or less at a large church wedding doesn't matter, whereas, at the reception, where you have to consider space and refreshment, every guest counts. It seems simple enough when you consider it. Indeed, I think most such questions seem simple when you find their reasons. What puzzled her was that I had not written out a form of acceptance or regret, but had said the form of invitation should be followed in the form of the answer.

Suppose an invitation to the church and reception are on the same sheet. It is perhaps easier to answer both together and accept or decline, as you please. But suppose, as is usual, one receives a separate card to the reception. Then, not mentioning the ceremony, I should write:

Miss Anne Singleton
Accepts With Pleasure
Mr. and Mrs. Lindon Smith's
Kind invitation to the wedding reception of their daughter,
On Monday, October the Third,
At Half-past Four o'clock.

If the reception is at the house it is not necessary to repeat that fact in answering. If it is at some other place, like a club or hotel (though I think a reception should always be held at home), then you mention the place, show that you have noted it. It is not absolutely necessary, either, in accepting or declining, to mention the bride's name and the bridegroom's. It is polite, but it is not impolite to omit it.

If you wish to decline, you have to substitute the words "regrets exceedingly" for "accepts with pleasure," and for the words "accept with pleasure," taking two lines instead of one. If anybody else wants an exact example, I will gladly give it.

STEPHENSON WINS COURT APPEARANCE ON FREEDOM MOVE

Klan Leader Asks Writ of Habeas Corpus on Ground of Illegal Trial.

FOURTEENTH AMENDMENT VIOLATED, HE ASSERTS

Charges He Was Convicted on Unsigned and Unverified Change of Venue.

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 2 (A.P.).—D. C. Stephenson, former Klan leader, today appealed to the United States District Court here in an effort to obtain freedom from Indiana State Prison at Michigan City, where he is serving a life term for murder of an Indianapolis girl.

The famous prisoner, through Attorney William V. Rooker, of Indianapolis, asked Judge Thomas Slick to grant a writ of habeas corpus on the ground that he is held in violation of his rights under article four of the fourteenth amendment to the Federal Constitution.

Stephenson contended he was convicted illegally in 1925 on an unsigned, unverified change of venue. Judge Slick directed that Stephenson be brought into court for the hearing and set next Thursday as the tentative date. Deputy Marshal Louis Sheets went to Michigan City today to serve the summons on Walter J. Daly, warden of the State prison, and defendant in the newest proceedings. He denied a petition that Stephenson be admitted to bail pending the hearing.

Under the arguments set out in the petition, the question is one involving the jurisdiction of the Federal court over State courts in cases of a void judgment and judgments in contravention of the fourteenth amendment.

Former Petition Dismissed.

Attorney Rooker contended that Stephenson is confined illegally in that he was convicted by a jury of an anonymous paper brought by an unknown messenger and deposited with the Hamilton Circuit Court at Noblesville. The attorney said he referred to the "unsigned, unverified change of venue taken from the Marion County Criminal Court to the Hamilton Circuit Court."

The Federal Court petition is similar to one filed in the Superior Court at Michigan City last December, which was dismissed. An appeal is pending in the Indiana Supreme Court is also an appeal from the original conviction.

Stephenson's attorneys sought the change of venue which took the trial from Indianapolis to the Hamilton Circuit Court at Noblesville. The trial lasted many weeks, with a jury eventually finding the former Klan leader guilty with punishment fixed at life imprisonment. He was convicted of being responsible for the death of Miss Madge Oberholzer, an Indianapolis girl, who took poison following an abduction and attack in a Hammond hotel.

Alleged disclosures of political graft in Indiana have been made by Stephenson in recent months and a third Marion County grand jury at Indianapolis is investigating the charges. Stephenson said he was tired of being "double-crossed."

British Heir Bids Canada Farewell

Montreal, Quebec, Sept. 2 (A.P.).—The Prince of Wales today bade farewell to Canada. Through the Canadian Club of Montreal, his words were addressed to the Association of Canadian Clubs and to the whole dominion.

Giving his impressions of the last five weeks, he drew a metaphor from the mines of precious metals he inspected in the Rockies a week ago. "Canada," he said, "is the heart and soul of Canada, the possibilities of Canada, is a reef of precious metal so vast in extent that no man living can value it, the deeper you go the more astonished you become at the wealth—material wealth and wealth of character—which you find there, and the effect on one who leaves Canada is a feeling that here at any rate is a great country worthily fulfilling a very great destiny."

Walker Is Saluted In Venice Gondola

Venice, Italy, Sept. 2 (A.P.).—Mayor Walker of New York, with Mrs. Walker and their party, arrived here yesterday from Munich, Germany.

The arrival of the party was marked by a friendly demonstration in which Count Pietro Cusi, Podesta of Venice, and representatives of the prefect and the Fascist party participated. From the station the visitors were conducted to the historic municipal gondola and taken through the Grand Canal. The gondola, decorated with the emblem of Venice and propelled by picturesque-costumed gondoliers, was saluted by the crews and occupants of other gondolas, boats and yachts along the route, as it moved between marble palaces, churches and bellfries, with St. Mark's towering above all.

Farm Real Estate Values Still Falling

Farm real estate values continued to tumble during the "crop year" just ended, marking a continual depreciation during the last seven years, the Department of Agriculture said yesterday, adding that there are plenty of farms for sale with buyers few and cautious.

Present values are about at the level of 1917 values, being placed at 119 per cent of the prewar level, while 1920 values were 169 per cent, about the prewar figure. The decline in the last year was not to be wholly unexpected, according to the department, on account of the market decrease during the year in the price of certain of our major farm products, the sharp drop in farmers' incomes and a generally inactive farm real estate market.

FAMILY OF 3 WHIPPED BY BAND, IS TESTIMONY

Wealthy Farmer, in Texas, Goes on Trial; Victim Was One of His Tenants.

Two Women Flogged

Tyler, Tex., Sept. 2 (A.P.).—A graphic story of how a family was routed from their home at night, marched away into the woods and flogged by four masked men, was told today by one of the victims, J. R. Richardson, a cotton picker, in district court where one of the alleged floggers is on trial.

Cain Anderson, the defendant, is a wealthy farmer and dairyman and the Richardson family were tenants on his property. He is specifically charged under the State antimasking law with being a member of the band which on the night of June 8 flogged Richardson, his wife and their daughter-in-law, Mrs. W. A. Straps.

Dressed in a blue denim shirt and overalls, Richardson took the stand and described the attack, declaring he had recognized the planter as one of the assailants.

"My wife was sick in bed, my four children were asleep and I was in the hall of the house when four men, wearing masks, and carrying guns, suddenly entered the house," Richardson related.

"They ordered me to put up my hands and my wife to get out of bed. My wife and I were marched from the house to a nearby wood. I was caught by my hand and jerked to the ground on my side and whipped with a rope."

"DeWitt Osborne finally took the rope and tried to break every bone in my body. (Osborne is also under indictment and awaiting trial.)

"They jerked my wife down and whipped her."

Richardson said she asked: "What was that for?" and one of the men replied: "Because you won't work."

The witness asserted the party escorted them back to the Richardson home and instructed them to leave the country within a few days.

FUGITIVE KILLS SELF TO ESCAPE ARREST

C. L. Wilson, Wanted for Shortage in Capital, Takes Own Life in Los Angeles.

Portland, Ore., Sept. 2 (A.P.).—C. L. Wilson, wanted by Washington, D. C., authorities for embezzlement, who escaped from a deputy sheriff at Los Angeles on May 25, shot and killed himself early today after being arrested here.

Wilson had been called out of bed by the detectives and was packing his handbag. Without warning, he ripped out part of the lining of the bag, seized a pistol and fired a shot through his brain. Wilson, who was 35 years old, is also known as C. L. Cargill and C. L. Kargill.

Wilson was wanted by the local police under the name of William Love Coghill, to answer charges of embezzlement. He is alleged to have mulcted $1,289.87 from the Federal Heating Co., where he had been employed for seventeen months as a bookkeeper. When the shortage was suspected and an auditor was employed to go over the books, Coghill left town, abandoning his wife and child. He was later arrested in California, but fled the State when released on bond.

NEW U. S. LOAN STORY DENIED BY POINCARE

French Finance Minister Says Only Move Contemplated Is Conversion.

Paris, Sept. 2 (A.P.).—A report that France would see a new loan in the American market was denied from Premier Poincare's office in the ministry of finance today, where it was stated that the only financial operation contemplated at present is conversion of the 8 per cent loan floated in 1920. (M. Poincare holds the portfolio of finance as well as the premiership.)

A communique was issued reading: "Contrary to certain announcements appearing in New York and reproduced by part of the French press, there is no question of issuing a new French loan on the American market. This was announced to representatives of the American press by our Ambassador and financial attaché on their arrival in New York."

"The only operation which can be contemplated at the moment is conversion of the 8 per cent loan issued in the United States in 1920, conversion having been the object of authorization by parliament."

HUMAN DIVISION ADVOCATED BEFORE BRITISH SCIENTISTS

Psychologist Holds Animal
Reactions Do Not Always Fully Answer.

TAPPING EARTH'S HEAT
URGED BY ENGINEER

Says Hidden Stores 30,000-
000 Times Greater Than Coal Supply.

Leeds, England, Sept. 2 (A.P.)—Operative experimentation on man himself rather than lower animals was advocated before the British Association for the Advancement of Science, to day by Dr. C. C. Douglas, psychologist. Man could give subjective impressions not to be gained from lower animals, he said.

"We are bound to admit frankly that direct observations by methods involving operative procedure on anesthetized animals cannot by itself give us the full answer required," the scientist said. "In study of normal physiology there are many instances in which more advantageous subject for investigation."

Man should bore holes to get heat from the interior of the earth instead of destroying a highly elaborate substance like coal, the association was told by J. L. Hudson, mechanical engineer.

He declared that heat stores in great spheres inside the earth is at least 20,000,000 times that available in the world's coal reserve. Hot rocks are found, he said, only about 35 miles below the surface and much nearer in volcanic areas.

Vast Heat Is Buried.

The speaker said he advocated drilling shafts five miles apart. Workers boring the holes would be protected by heat-proof suits, including liquid air containers to supply cool air.

The lecturer estimated that a cubic mile of hot rock would yield as much heat as burning 200,000,000 tons of coal. Dr. H. MacGregor, professor of political economy at Oxford University, addressed the economic, science and statistics section, of which he is president, on the restoration of industry.

Speaking of leadership in industry, Prof. MacGregor said it was possible that, besides the insecurities and instabilities of competition and the dangers of monopolistic influence, there might be another idea under which private enterprise might work out its future—the idea of leadership.

Englishmen Get Taller.

English people are becoming taller and more blond, asserted F. G. Parsons, professor of anatomy in the University of London, in an address before the anthropology section of the association.

While the average height of Englishmen was not definitely fixed, he said, it probably was not more than 5 feet 3 inches, though students in St. Thomas' Hospital, London, at which he is lecturer, averaged 5 feet 9 inches. Students in the school of medicine for women 20 years ago averaged 5 feet 3 inches, but since then their average height had increased until now it was 5 feet 4.9 inches, almost as much as the average height of Englishmen.

Parsons expressed the belief that the Englishman of the future would have an average height of 5 feet 9 inches, and no more, and the women of the future would have a height of 5 feet 6 inches or 5 feet 7 inches.

The professor said he had arrived at the conclusion that the English people have reached a stage in which 60 per cent have light-colored eyes and 34 per cent dark eyes, that the English people's hair is lighter now than it was 60 years ago, that the shape of the head is showing signs of an increase in its proportional length, and that the English people's nose is showing signs of an increase in its proportional length.

He said he regarded this as an evolutionary process in harmony with the greatly changed conditions of life which had come about during the last century.

Barthelmess returned to Hollywood yesterday from New York for a conference with his producers about his next picture, which he said would be completed in November. Miss Wilson is expected here soon.

Science Parley Marked By Absent-Mindedness

Leeds, England, Sept. 2 (A.P.)—Jokes about "the absent-minded professor" are common enough, but Leeds this week is experiencing the real thing, with the annual meeting of the British Association for the Advancement of Science.

While there have been several reported instances of professional absent-mindedness, the palm thus far has been awarded to one scientist here who, after having put a question to a clerk in the reception department at the town hall and received a satisfactory answer, returned shortly afterwards and wanted to know what was the question he had asked.

Another professor, en route from London to Leeds, lost his luggage and also his entire collection of lantern slides illustrating a lecture. At Leicester he left the train to send a telegram and forgot about the train until it had pulled out.

CHEVY CHASE ASSESSOR
ASKED TO RESIGN POST

Supervisor Chiswell Asserts
Offutt's Valuations Are Too Low.

READY TO ASK REMOVAL

Resignation of William Lyles Offutt, recently appointed by the Montgomery County Commissioners to reassess the property in the Chevy Chase Precinct of Bethesda district, has been demanded by Lawrence A. Chiswell, supervisor of assessments for the county.

Offutt's resignation was demanded on the ground that his valuations of the property are unsatisfactory, being in many instances from 25 to 40 per cent below existing assessments.

Formal demand that Offutt resign was made by Chiswell several weeks ago, but the assessor refused to comply. Chiswell yesterday wrote to Offutt to the effect that if his resignation was not forthcoming "within a reasonable time" the matter will be placed before the State tax commission.

In his new letter to Mr. Offutt, Chiswell, after pointing out the reduction in the assessments, declared that there is nothing to support a reduction in land values in the Chevy Chase district. In fact, he said, the land values have considerably increased in all of the suburban sections of Montgomery County during the last five years.

In addition to attacking the assessment valuations made by Offutt, Chiswell also charges him with being inept in the discharge of his duties. He refused to return to him the Chevy Chase assessment cards after he had called upon him to do so.

Missouri DOUBTFUL IN G. O. P.
CONTEST FOR PRESIDENCY

It is not a long time and everybody in the State recalls the incidents which made the Lowden campaign notorious in Missouri in 1920. In order to revive the memories, for instance, the St. Louis Star editorially declared that "the jeers of gallery crowds as Missouri was named in the convention call, ought to be, if they are not, still ringing in the ears of the Republicans of this State." The staid and sober element of the party are determined the party shall not go through the first fire as it is enough to have been burned once.

Briefly summing up the Republican situation in Missouri it may be said that the party is in a bad way. It will go to the National convention unprepared and free to throw its votes wherever the leaders shall direct. Who will be the champion of the party is a matter of the future as any thing can be. The only word that can be said by way of prophecy is that it will not be Robert L. Lowden, as he is not regarded with special favor and Longworth's name is not mentioned at all.

It can be said up to the present time there is no crystallization of sentiment in Missouri regarding Republican candidates. It is true that the farmers of the State in convention assembled, have formally suggested that their brethren irrespective of their political affiliations, sign a petition urging that "staunch and fearless friend of agriculture, former Gov. Frank O. Lowden, become a candidate for President."

This does not disturb the men who have a firm grasp of the steering wheel. They know that in Missouri the Democratic farm vote is the deciding factor in the election. The Republican farmer is a Republican first, last, and all the time. The reason for this is that the convention, engineered by the Lowden organizers, are not, as yet, taken seriously.

It is true, however, that the Missouri Republicans are really in earnest about Lowden. This is a matter which naturally interests Dr. Clements, and, like a shrewd politician, he has decided to go out. He intends to make a tour of the State, holding executive meetings with the leaders in each congressional district and learn the sentiment of the voters. It will take two months or more to do this, and until the sentiment is ascertained, Dr. Clements is noncommittal as to where the State actually stands.

Strong for Vice President.

The statement has been published in St. Louis that the Republican organization, headed by Dr. Clements, national committee member, former Gov. Hyde, United States marshal, and others of like standing are at heart for Daves and have begun to swing the State in his direction. There is no doubt that there is strong sentiment here for Daves, especially among the business interests, while the agricultural element is friendly because Daves is for farm relief.

For instance, as soon as the Coolidge statement was issued, Theodore Gary, of the telephone exchange, called from Europe: "If Coolidge is out of it, I'm for Daves." It has been something of a shock to these friends of the Vice President to learn that he will not take any active steps toward procuring the nomination and that he will not look with favor upon any spontaneous efforts in his behalf. These politicians of the old-time, regular stamp are not of the kind that believe anybody will be handed the nomination upon a silver platter.

They are afraid that with Mr. Daves inactive and silent the strength that is now ready and willing to be crystallized in his favor will fade away.

CHINESE IN GROWING POWER NORTH CHINA ARMY

Nationalists Claim Foo Has Lost 20,000 Men During Last Week.

SUN'S DRIVE APPEARS TO HAVE COLLAPSED

Southern Leaders Assert That Way to Peking Has Been Opened by Event.

Shanghai, Sept. 2 (A.P.)—Cholera is reported to have joined the forces of the Nationalist troops in pushing Gen. Sun Chuan-fang's northern army back from the Yangtze, where, according to nationalist accounts, the general lost 20,000 men in combat during the heavy fighting of the last week. Foreign dispatches from Nanking state that a cholera epidemic is taking a heavy toll among the soldiers in that district.

"Bodies are piled high on the river banks," say the vernacular papers here, and hundreds are floating in the river. It is impossible to bury the dead. The medical aid is most inadequate."

Gen. Sun Chuan-fang's rapid and spectacular drive to the Yangtze from Shantung during recent weeks, in which he forced back the Nationalists to the south of that great waterway, would appear from dispatches received here to have collapsed completely. The northerners are said to be retreating along the Tientsin-Pukow railway, having reached Chuchow, leaving Pukow in the hands of the Nationalists.

Way to Peking Called Open.

The Nationalists announced that the way to Peking is once more open. Gen. Sun Chuan-fang's reported sudden retreat northward is explained in dispatches as being mainly due to the fact that the Hankow forces, previously announced as planning to join the Nanking Moderate Nationalists, are said to be taking an active part in the renewed Nationalist drive. The Hankow contingent is said to be pushing through Anhwei province toward Peking.

During the last week the heaviest fighting has occurred on both banks of the Yangtze, from Nanking to Chuchow. The Nationalists are said to have defeated the strenuous attempt of the Northerners to establish strongholds in the south banks of the river. The Northerners finally crumbling because of lack of reserves and ammunition.

Feet to Gorge.

Niagara Falls, Ontario, Sept. 2 (A.P.)—Mr. and Mrs. Roy Desmond Huxley, of Cleveland Heights, Ohio, were instantly killed and their 7-year-old daughter was fatally injured when their automobile crashed through a guard rail at the edge of Niagara gorge and plunged 100 feet to a ledge of rock. The child died at a hospital two hours later.

Spectators said that the Huxley car, going north on the river road, was crushed between two cars by a south-bound automobile. All three occupants were thrown out as the car struck the ledge at the foot of the waterfall. A block and tackle was used to pull the car up and the bodies were removed. The car was crushed and the engine was mangled.

Warren Robinson, a contractor, stood on the end of the ladder, extended out into the gorge and directed the rescue party. The car was pulled up and the bodies were removed. The car was crushed and the engine was mangled.

The basket made three trips, the injured girl being first brought up to the level of the street, followed by the bodies of the mother and father.

Niagara Falls, Ontario, Sept. 2 (A.P.)—Mr. and Mrs. Roy Desmond Huxley, of Cleveland Heights, Ohio, were instantly killed and their 7-year-old daughter was fatally injured when their automobile crashed through a guard rail at the edge of Niagara gorge and plunged 100 feet to a ledge of rock. The child died at a hospital two hours later.

Spectators said that the Huxley car, going north on the river road, was crushed between two cars by a south-bound automobile. All three occupants were thrown out as the car struck the ledge at the foot of the waterfall. A block and tackle was used to pull the car up and the bodies were removed. # PIRATES BEAT CARDS, 5-3, TIGHTEN GRIP ON LEAD; FRANCE'S DOUBLES TEAMS LOSE IN U. S. TOURNEY

Lott and Doeg Win From Invaders

Cochet and Brugnon Bow in Five Sets to U. S. Yauths.

All-American Finals Assured as Borotra and Lacoste Fail.

BROOKLINE, Mass., Sept. 2 (A.P.).—The defeat of the two French teams and the brilliance of the playing which eliminated the tricolor from further participation in the national doubles championship tournament at the Longwood Cricket Club here, stimulated unusual speculation as to the outcome of the semifinals tomorrow.

The French doubles champions, Henry Cochet and Jacques Brugnon, seeded first among the foreign entries, lost a closely contested match with America's young alternates, the Davis Cup squad, John Doeg, Santa Monica, Calif., and George M. Lott, Jr., Chicago. The match went five hard sets before Doeg and Lott could master their opponents to win, 6-3, 3-6, 6-3, 2-6, 9-7.

Within the next two hours Jean Borotra and Rene Lacoste, of the French Davis Cup team, were decisively beaten in straight sets, 6-3, 6-2, 6-4, by the United States clay court title holders, John Hennessey, Indianapolis, and Lucien Williams, Chicago.

Tomorrow, Hennessey and Williams will meet William T. Tilden and Francis T. Hunter, New Rochelle, N. Y., Wimbledon winners for the right to enter the finals. Today Tilden and Hunter easily eliminated Nathaniel W. Niles, Boston, and Watson M. Washburn, New York, Yankee veterans, 6-2, 6-2, 6-1.

Lott and Doeg go into the semifinals against their seniors on the American Davis Cup team, Richard N. Williams, Philadelphia, and his new partner, William "Little Bill" Johnston, of San Francisco.

Williams and Johnston had a comparatively simple task today in defeating the Pacific Coast champions, James Davies and Gerald Stratford, both of San Francisco, who lost, 7-5, 6-2, 6-1.

A capacity gallery attended the matches, and during the play in which France was defeated almost every set was accorded hearty and sustained applause.

The young Americans opened their attack carefully testing out their opponents for weak spots. They soon found a tendency in Cochet to shoot ground strokes into the net. Both played the ball low, leading the offense by chopping shot after shot barely over the net at extremely sharp angles.

Lott at the net was nearly impassable for shots from French territory. Doeg lined up to his already considerable reputation for delivering a hard, effective service, which led the French to go out at the sidelines and overdrive the ball. After this fashion the first set went 6-3.

The second set brought Brugnon to the line first. He won his game and was followed by Doeg, who evaded the score. Cochet took the next at love on a burst of fast

Miss Harding has failed once but will try again.

MRS. E. SANDE Chicago Hails Gene Tunney, DEAD AFTER ILLNESS

Famous Rider's Wife Dies at Saratoga Springs Home.

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Sept. 2.—Mrs. E. Sande, wife of the famous boxer, died today at the Sande cottage here.

Mrs. Sande had been ill since the Saratoga meeting. Friends of the family relate that her intense loyalty to her husband contributed to her decline. Three years ago, when Sande was a contract rider for the Rancocas Stable, he was injured in a fall, as the result of which he was out of the saddle for a year. The shock of that accident, it is said, undermined Mrs. Sande's health. For weeks she was at his bedside.

Subsequently the boxer's wife insisted on going on the same diet he was forced to observe to keep down his riding weight, and this was reported to have contributed to her illness.

Sande will ride no more at Saratoga this year. His withdrawal cuts him out of the $60,000 Hopeful Stake tomorrow, the final day. The Illinois, who has kept her husband from the track during a great part of the meeting.

The body was taken to Boston this afternoon for burial. Mrs. Sande was Marion C. Casey, of that city. Mrs. Sam Hildreth, wife of the trainer for the Rancocas Stable, was her aunt.

GEHRIG HITS 2 HOMERS, RUTH 1

There for "Boxing Match" Dempsey Bout Is Not a "Fight." Declares He Will Not Marry.

CHICAGO, Sept. 2 (A.P.).—Gene Tunney must be convinced by this time that he is a popular champion, at least in Chicago where he will fight his first battle in defense of his title, three weeks hence. Not since war days has such a throng turned out to greet a popular figure.

Crowds which swelled up the reception committee, bands, and an almost overwhelming champion from the time he stepped into the arena until he was escorted to the hotel, have been the first to greet the injured man and helped to lift him into another car.

Throughout the tumultuous greeting Tunney gave no sign of the reserve which led him to choose an isolated spot in the Adlon-Casino for his summer training quarters. His smile was in constant evidence, and he grasped as many as he could of the thousands of hands thrust at him.

The sight of 10,000 hero worshippers jammed into the New York Central station as his train came in, startled him at first, and by the time he had been pulled and shoved into the official automobile, he was being hoisted into the limousine, including Tex Rickard.

Chisox Stop Tribe, 7-6; Mostil Pinch Runner

CHICAGO, Sept. 2 (A.P.).—Chicago's ninth-inning rally fell short by one run of tying Cleveland today, and the Indians took the second game of the series, 7 to 6. Blankenship's error and a base on balls, the only one the Indians received, proved the undoing of the Chicago pitcher. Chicago used nineteen men in an attempt to overcome the Indians. Johnny Mostil entered his first game of the season for the Sox when he ran for Crouse in the seventh inning. He was given a big hand when he appeared at first base.

Braves Gain 6th Place By Beating Robins, 3-2

BOSTON, Sept. 2 (A.P.).—The Boston Braves edged the Brooklyn Robins out of sixth place in the National League today by winning the series opener, 3 to 2. Eddie Farrell, former Giant, played an important part in the victory, making three hits, scoring a run and driving in the other two with well-placed drives at crucial moments.

Ed Brown, Boston left fielder, celebrated his 542nd successive game by making a fine running catch and in the ninth hitting a triple and scoring on Farrell's single.

Two Fights Settle Dispute on Terris

NEW YORK, Sept. 2 (A.P.).—The dispute over the ring program of Ed Terris, easily East Side lightweight, was settled today by agreements under which he will box Hilario Martinez, of Spain, at the Queensboro Athletic Club, September 20 and meet Phil McGraw, of Detroit, in a return match at Ebbets Field September 26. The announcement of a settlement between rival promoters was made by Tom McArde, Queensboro matchmaker.

Boston Tests Nationals Today

Lisenbee to Attempt to Win a Game for Washington.

Stewart to Continue at Second Base; Johnson Better.

By FRANK H. YOUNG.

THE Nationals are entertaining at home today and tomorrow with the Boston Red Sox as their guests. Under ordinary conditions, this series would mean little, for there is no question but what the Capital City team outclasses that from the Hub. But ordinary conditions do not prevail here at this time. The Red Sox, although losing frequently, have been showing plenty of fight and pep and have been making all of the other teams hustle to beat them.

The Nationals, on the other hand, have just experienced the longest losing streak in which a Washington Club has figured in more than a decade. True, it finally was stopped at twelve straight when the Mackmen were beaten Wednesday, but the Nats have not played since and it is still up to them to prove that this victory was no mere fluke in the pan.

Horace Lisenbee is slated to do the Washington pitching this afternoon, while Manager Bill Carrigan is expected to turn his mound duties over to either Harold Willes, a good young southpaw, or Tony Weiner.

Bucky Harris will be a bench manager during this series. He was spiked by Sammy Hale in the Philadelphia game here Wednesday and forced to give way to Stuffy Smith. At the time, the injury did not appear to be much more than a scratch, but Trainer Martin later discovered that one of the arteries in Harris' foot was cut and he has spent the intervening days in bed.

Stewart will play second base today, tomorrow and possibly in the two pairs of games to be played in the Quaker City Monday and Tuesday.

Waners Lead Pittsburgh Attack

Brothers Make 7 of 15 Hits Allowed by Alexander.

Kremer Checks Foes; Maranville Plays With St. Louis.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 2 (A.P.).—Pittsburgh took a firmer hold on the National League lead by defeating St. Louis today, 5 to 3.

Kremer outpitched the veteran Alexander, who was hit hard. The Waners brothers started for the Pirates, collecting seven hits between them.

Rabbit Maranville was at shortstop for St. Louis. He registered one hit and had nine chances in the field.

The game was tight until the eighth inning when Pittsburgh scored a batting rally for three runs.

Kremer pitched good ball but weakened in the ninth when two singles were followed by O'Farrell's double, driving in two runs. The threatening rally was nipped in time, however.

Alexander was nipped for 15 hits against 9 or Kremer, but held the score down by tight work with men on bases.

The battle was deadlocked at 1-all until the seventh when Lloyd Waner stole second and Paul Waner singled his brother home. With the spell broken the Pirates scored three more in the eighth to establish a lead the Cards could not overcome.

Cards Buy Maranville From Rochester Club

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 2 (A.P.).—Walter "Rabbit" Maranville, veteran shortstop, has been sold conditionally by the Rochester Club of the International League to the St. Louis Cardinals, and may be in the line-up today when the Cardinals open their series with the Pirates in Pittsburgh.

Announcement of the deal was made here last night by Branch Rickey, vice president of the St. Louis Club.

Maranville has played with Pittsburgh, Chicago and Brooklyn in the National League, and with the Champions Boston Braves of 1914. He has been playing in old-time form for the past two months.

The deal involved a Syracuse player, Kapl, and a cash consideration.

Florian Sets Pace to Lose in Stretch

Mobox, Third Starter, Never Factor in Ballston.

Star Rocket, at 6 to 1, Roms Home to Win Opener.

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Sept. 2. Today's racing was the poorest day's sport seen on the New York track in years. This condition was due to bad track and the lack of horses at the close of the meeting. Rain which began last Friday continued all through the week, making the going bad to the result that the fields were small.

The feature today was the Ballston handicap and it was won by Sagamore stable's Montferat, which has won two races at the meeting. Florian was second and Mobox third and last. Florian made the early running leading by a length or so to the stretch where Montferat took command and won by three-quarters of a length. The race was worth $10,000.

For the second time during the season there was another walk over. Montferat just galloped over the mile course in the fifth event.

He was at Belmont Park last spring, when Millwick galloped away with the purse.

Star Rocket at last found a track that he could run over with the result that he romped away with the purse in the opening event.

He was held at 6 to 1, but he was well played, was second, with Fedena, favorite, third. The favorite probably would have won had he been ridden properly. Star Rocket, rushed to the front, made all the pace and won by a length and a half.

Noise beat the favorite a head for the place. Fedena broke last and when the boy rushed him up he was blocked losing some ground, but he finished gamely in the stretch.

Oyster Bed, quoted at one to fifteen in the betting, won the steeples chase of about 2 miles. Sagamore stable made a second. Gold Coast, the only other starter, rode rider at the last fence, but was remounted and finished third. It was a good race in the last half mile but right at the end Oyster Bed drew away to win by half a length.

The third race was practically no contest. Lucky Play was held at one to fifteen in the betting, jumped away to the lead, increased his advantage and won easily by 10 lengths. Niagara Falls just galloped along in the rear.

The fourth race was a walkover, while the last, a 6-furlong sprint, was won by the favorite, Star Rocket, with Love Girl second and Boyish Bob third.

two-day stop. Then comes another open date before the team remains home to repel the Western outlaws in their final invasion of the East.

Bad weather in the other sector on the recent road trip was responsible for two games being shifted to Washington. One against the White Sox will be played as part of a doubleheader next Thursday, while the other, against the Tigers, will give Washington fans another bargain-day bill on September 13.

No regular practice session was staged by the Harrismen yesterday. Whether or not they needed it is a matter of opinion. After having seen the Harrismen's pitiful efforts to win on the last Western trip, it is the writer's opinion that a little practice would not have done any particular harm.

Some of the Nationals evidently felt the same way, for they were on hand bright and early in their own account and spent an hour or more toasting the ball around, taking turns pitching to each other during wand drill.

Walter Johnson was one of those who showed up yesterday. He reported that his twisted leg was improving rapidly and that he was just about ready to take an hour or more toasting the ball around, taking turns pitching to each other during wand drill.

In addition to the fact that the Nationals and White Sox will play a doubleheader here on September 6, Almas Temple is planning a big birthday celebration as a testimonial to President Clark Griffith. Several surprise features are being arranged by the Fetmen, who hope to make the occasion a memorable one here.

The Almas Military Band and Drum Corps of 60 pieces will be on hand to enliven the occasion, both before and during the game.

There are many Shriners on both teams. Manager Schalk, Lyons, Peckinpaugh, Ward, Feltz, Moore and Hunsley represent the White Sox nobles, while Speaker, Rigney, McNeely, Rice and Altrock make up the home team's delegation.

Knickerbockers Meet Chevy Chase Bearcats

The Knickerbockers are scheduled to meet the strong Chevy Chase Bearcats tomorrow in the Georgetown Hollow at 3 o'clock.

Rose Fisher probably will toe the mound for the Knicks, while the Bearcats will call on Tribby.

Mt. Rainier Is Host To Rialto Tossers

A lively game is in prospect tomorrow when the Rialto tossers visit Mount Rainier for a tussle on the latter's diamond at 3 o'clock.

The Maryland aggregation expects to break its stormy losing streak at the expense of the Rialto. Gerhardt will be opposed by Ottenberg on the mound.

Harlem Nine Downs Georgetown Insects

1926 DISTRICT BIRTH RATE LOWEST IN 25 YEARS, SAYS FOWLER

17.05 Born for Every 1,000 of Population, Annual Report Shows.

7,388 DIE IN CAPITAL; GAIN OF 372 OVER 1925

Infant Mortality Declines; Typhoid Fever Cases Fewest Ever Recorded.

The birth rate in the District of Columbia was lower in 1926 than it has been for 25 years, according to the annual report of Dr. William C. Fowler, District health officer, made public yesterday. There were 17.05 births for every 1,000 of population, as compared with 18.42 in 1925.

Deaths numbered 7,388 per 1,000 population, as compared with 14.09 in 1925. While there were more births than deaths it is thus seen that the decrease of births was greater than that of deaths and to the extent increase of population was checked.

While the annual report covers the fiscal year ended June 30, the vital statistics in it are for the calendar year. The population base used was 526,000. The report named this as the estimate of the Census Bureau of the number of inhabitants in the District.

7,388 Die in Year.

The number of deaths in 1926 was 7,388, an increase of 37 over the year before. As usual, diseases of the heart were named as responsible for the greatest number, 1,142. There were 807 pneumonia victims, 733 died of nephritis, 632 of pulmonary tuberculosis and 516 of apoplexy.

Infant mortality declined from a rate of 18.42 in 1925 to 17.05 per 1,000 population in 1926.

There were only 89 cases of typhoid fever reported in the District, the lowest number since the disease was first made reportable, in 1907. There were 16 cases of smallpox, with no deaths, as compared with 38 cases and 20 deaths in the year before.

Only two recommendations were contained in Dr. Fowler's report, and both of those were renewals of old suggestions. His policy is to make recommendations singly from time to time, instead of grouping them in his annual report.

He stressed the need for more medical and dental inspectors and school nurses in the public schools and repeated his request to have all dogs either muzzled or in leash throughout the entire year.

Dr. Fowler said babies was on the increase. As to dental inspections he said his staff examined 41,775 school children, while dentists examined the teeth of 21,365.

The two and three others were named defendants in an indictment accusing them of conspiring to withhold more than $40,000 in assets from the trustee in the bankruptcy of Proby's, Inc., an automobile tire concern. ## Dr. Von Falke Is Held Sane in Lunacy Court

Dr. Phillip Otto Von Falke, 40 years old, of 3432 Connecticut avenue northwest, who was arrested a month ago for Deaf, N. J., authorities as an alleged fraudulent stock operator, was declared sane yesterday in lunacy court. At the request of Assistant District Attorney Renah Camiller, a marshal took Dr. Von Falke into custody to await a hearing before Justice Wendell P. Stafford on the regulation to have him committed to New Jersey authorities.

Dr. Von Falke was committed to Gallinger Hospital after he was found in a cell at the First Precinct with safety pin suspending a crucifix fastened an inch deep into the flesh over his heart. He was arrested at a downtown hotel by Central Office detectives and a Department of Justice agent on information from Deal, which held that he had obtained more than $40,000 from residents in connection with the promotion of a superelectric ray health machine, which he had patented. He also is said to have possessed a questionable check and United States Treasury certificate, each for $1,000,000,000, and signed with the name of Andrew Mellon.

BRIDGE ROAD PROBLEM STIRS ARLINGTON COUNTY

Highway Commission Suggests Communities Build Route Straight to Span.

RIGHT OF WAY IS SOUGHT

Various interpretations which have been placed upon the recommendations of the Virginia State Highway Commission in regard to the projected road across Arlington County to the approach of the new Memorial Bridge have stimulated interest in the county.

Proponents of the so-called boulevard route and of the "straight-to-the-bridge" route are busily discussing the recommendations as recently submitted to the board of supervisors of Arlington County and are mapping out plans for furthering their favorite projects along the lines contained in the recommendations.

The letter from the highway commission containing the recommendations follows: "As per your resolution that the State Highway Commission have a survey made of the various lines approaching the new Memorial Bridge and to recommend to you 'the most feasible route' to be taken, with to make the following recommendations:

"First—That the counties of Fairfax and Arlington take over and construct as soon as they can conveniently do so, the route known as the straight-to-the-bridge route."

"Second—That the State Highway Commission in cooperation with the State Conservation and Development Commission, will take over the road known as the boulevard route with such changes as made by our engineers, and as soon as the lines are approved by the legislature to do so, provided the rights of way on this road are furnished free of cost to the commission and the other areas for park purposes that were offered to be decided to the Commission on Conservation and Development, along with other work and materials promised at the hearing in Arlington court-house."

"I will appreciate your advising in regard to this matter so that action can be taken by the State Highway Commission to carry out the recommendation as a 've'."

BRIDGE FINANCE PLAN DENIED BY ENGINEER

Chain Span Toll Charge Proposal Up to Congress, Lade Declares.

Col. William B. Lade, Engineer Commissioner, yesterday denied that the District Commissioners are considering any plan to finance the building of the proposed new abutment to Chain Bridge by charging vehicles toll for crossing the bridge.

He said the plan could not be put in effect without an act of Congress and that such a proposal could not be placed before Congress on so small an expenditure as $20,000, the estimated cost of the new abutment.

"When discussion of the condition of Chain Bridge first began," said Col. Lade, "a private citizen called on me and asked if the District would be interested in a project to let private interests build a new bridge, not an abutment, take their investment back by charging toll for a period of years and make it over to the District at the end of the time. I told him he had come to the wrong place. He should take the project before a committee of Congress. Certainly I have no intention of recommending such a procedure."

Bruce to Supervise Community Project

In connection with a movement inaugurated last week in New York by the Rockefeller Foundation, Roscoe C. Bruce, former assistant superintendent in charge of colored schools here, according to an announcement by his relatives, has been engaged to direct the New York unit of a plan of cooperative community development. He will be assisted by Mrs. Carrie B. Bruce, his wife, a recent graduate of the Graduate School of Harvard Law College.

The unit, it was said, comprises an apartment house of 641 apartments, housing 2,000, which will be operated to establish a standard of negro living conditions in large cities. The position obtained by Bruce was in open competition, which included preparation of a thesis covering situations likely to arise in administration of the cooperative principle, including possibilities in banking, financing, public utilities, cooperative marketing, community work and social service vocational guidance and educational aid.

ACTION TAKEN SOONER THAN WAS ANTICIPATED

New Contract Decidedly More Advantageous to Players, Says Hayden.

Washington theater musicians, who for two months have bargained with theater owners and managers on terms of a wage contract to replace one now lapsing, yesterday arrived at a settlement with their employers at a meeting of the joint wage scale committee in the Earle Building.

The action was taken a day sooner than the most optimistic of either side had anticipated, although it came apparent late Thursday that agreement would be reached before expiration of the old contract at midnight tonight. Yesterday's adjustment of the last vestige of possible differences would be reached before the new contract was made public. Julian B.
